

HAUPTMANN'S EXECUTION IS WEEK MAR. 30

Second Reprieve By Gov. Hoffman is Not Probable

Trenton, N. J., Feb. 19.—(AP)—A source who heard the death interview Sunday between Bruno Richard Hauptmann and Attorney Samuel Leibowitz quoted Hauptmann today as having said at that time: "I guess my story sounds pretty weak."

Trenton, N. J., Feb. 19.—(AP)—Bruno Richard Hauptmann's execution was set today for the week of March 30.

The warrant was signed by Supreme Court Justice Thomas W. Trenchard as he sat in a chair in his sick room.

It was the third time an execution date has been set for the convicted murderer of Charles Lindbergh, Jr. The first date, set by Justice Trenchard within a few minutes of his conviction Feb. 13, 1935, by a jury of eight men and four women after a six weeks' trial in Flemington.

Execution was automatically stayed when the defense appealed the case. The Court of Errors rejected the appeal on October 9 and after a further delay caused by an attempt to get a review of the case in the United States Supreme Court Justice Trenchard on December 13 fixed the week of January 12.

Reprieved Jan. 16, On January 16, twenty-nine hours before Hauptmann was to walk to the chair, Governor Harold G. Hoffman, after a brief conference with Attorney General David W. Wilentz, announced he was reprieving Hauptmann until February 15.

Virtually his only hope of a further delay in the execution lies in a second reprieve, and this is regarded as unlikely. The governor himself has said he will not take such action again unless Wilentz agrees. The attorney general held that the first reprieve was granted he would oppose another. The new warrant for Hauptmann's execution was taken to Justice Trenchard's sick room in his home across the street from the state house by Assistant Attorney General Joseph A. Lanigan.

Left to Justice, Lanigan said afterward he left to Trenchard's discretion the date of the execution. The law provides that it must be at least four and not more than eight weeks from the time the warrant is signed.

The earliest possible date would have been the week of March 22 and the limit would have been reached the week ending April 18. Executions usually take place either on Tuesday or Friday nights at 8 o'clock.

Lanigan said he would take the warrant to Flemington immediately to be signed by County Clerk Lloyd Fell. It will then be delivered to Sheriff William Schompp, who, Lanigan said, will take it to Col. Mark O. Kimberling, principal keeper at state prison, late today.

State Satisfied, The reprieve granted January 16 was for the announced purpose of carrying on an investigation to determine if Hauptmann had accomplices. The state had expressed itself, through Col. H. Norman Schwarzkopf and Wilentz, as perfectly satisfied the case was closed. Nevertheless the governor, soon after granting the reprieve, called upon Schwarzkopf as head of the (Telegraph Special Service) Polo, Feb. 19.—(AP)—Mrs. M. E. Miller, a resident of this community since her childhood, passed away at her home on North Jackson street at 7:30 o'clock Tuesday evening after an illness which kept her bedfast five weeks. Funeral services will be held at the home at 2 o'clock Friday afternoon. Rev. C. D. Kammerer, pastor of the Lutheran church, of which she was a member, officiating and with burial in Fairmount.

Mrs. M. E. Miller, Polo, Died Last Eve

Elizabeth Artz was born in Maryland Aug. 8, 1850, coming to this vicinity with her parents when a child. She was married 58 years ago to Maurice Miller, who survives her, together with a daughter, Mrs. Pearl Davis of Polo and a sister, Mrs. Emma Hurst of Chicago.

Fear Minimized

Washington, Feb. 19.—(AP)—Fears of flood danger along midwestern rivers were minimized today by the United States weather bureau in a statement that recent heavy snows "do not necessarily indicate that widespread floods will result."

The bureau added, however, that heavy rains accompanying the usual March thaw might upset their calculations. Ice gorges, formed by the thaw, might send some streams out of their banks.

Reports from army engineers indicated that all midwestern rivers, with the exception of an Ohio river stretch near Evansville, Ind., are at low stages.

CREW OF GREEK FREIGHTER SAVED TUESDAY EVE

Derelict, Loaded With Phosphates Sought by Coast Guard

New York, Feb. 19.—(AP)—Coast guard craft searched the wintry north Atlantic today for a derelict Greek freighter—adrift and a menace to shipping—after its crew of 33 was taken off in a dramatic rescue by the S. S. City of Newport News.

The Newport News, commanded by Capt. Robert H. Wright, accomplished the rescue in heavy seas, late yesterday, about 500 miles off the Virginia coast.

The Greek ship, the Stefanos Costomenis, was abandoned with her cargo of phosphates, after the transfer of men was concluded at the end of an emergency run of 310 nautical miles by the Newport News.

Capt. Wright had raced his ship for nearly 17 hours to reach the stricken vessel. His own account of the rescue, sent to New York by wireless, said a heavy sea was running and the weather was squally but clear, when the Newport News arrived. He said the freighter's captain "signalled immediately a decision to abandon ship, which was leaking and out of all control. He said there was 19 feet of water in the lower holds with the 'tween decks' now awash.

Used Own Boats, "The Greek sailors used their own boats which I cast adrift when the rescue had been effected."

Heavy weather and fog caused damage to five other vessels. The fishing schooner Ingomar of Gloucester split her hull in grounding off Plum Island, Mass., and her crew of 20 reached shore only after rowing blindly in fog.

The tankers Gulf Breeze and Bayonne collided 20 miles north of Cape Hatteras without apparent serious damage.

The steamers President Hayes, of the Dollar Line, and Kirishima Maru, Japanese, went aground on Boston harbor mud flats, but freed themselves shortly.

Northwestern U. Mourns Passing of William Dyche

Chicago, Feb. 19.—(AP)—Northwestern University alumni, students and faculty members today mourned the death of William A. Dyche, 74, former business manager of the university, who devoted the greater part of his life to the development of the school.

Dyche died last night after an illness of several weeks.

He retired in 1934 after 31 years as manager of the business affairs of the university. Among his outstanding achievements are the McKinlock Memorial campus, on Chicago's near north side; the football stadium named in his honor, and the fraternity and sorority system of the university, under which the school finances the buildings and grants leases in perpetuity for the interest on the investment.

Some Grades of Coal are Again Being Rationed by Dixon Yards

As the temperature at the government station here reeled downward to 26 below zero for the second consecutive night, coal dealers in Dixon were swamped again today with orders, with only meagre supplies on hand.

Although some dealers have a few cars on the track here they said today that railroads and mines are working under great handicaps in bringing the coal to the dealers and that another severe blizzard might cause shortages in some grades of coal.

Mines reported today they were

EXPLOSIONS IN UTICA CONTINUED THIS MORN

New York Business Area Guarded by Soldiers

Utica, N. Y., Feb. 19.—(AP)—Utica's main business section was shaken by a new blast of illuminating gas at 9:40 A. M. today, it sent a manhole cover 20 feet into the air and endangered the lives of a dozen city officials, including Chief of Police Nicholas Doll, standing 15 feet away.

The new explosion occurred just as cautious preparations were being made to permit a partial resumption of business. All downtown buildings have stood empty since 11 A. M. yesterday when the first explosion occurred.

The city officials, including Chief Doll, were standing 15 feet away from a telephone tunnel in which the new explosion occurred. Six linemen were in the tunnel. They escaped injury.

Soldiers Guard Area, Soldiers guarded a six-block area while workmen toiled frantically to save the section from further explosions of gas leaking from subterranean mains.

Firemen previously had succeeded in quenching an underground blaze that had raged nearly 24 hours, and utility company laborers plugged temporarily the five mains which had fed the flames.

But the menace of the gas remained, and 4,000 persons were kept away from work in the danger zone.

In addition to the gas peril was the danger of extensive damage from freezing of water pipes and the possibility that another water main might burst underground.

A workman's pick, swung in repairing a broken water line, was believed by police to have struck a spark that ignited the gas escaping in cable tunnels and sewers.

Around "Busy Corner," The affected area is known as the "busy corner." No one was allowed within its confines except police, firemen, utility workmen and the National Guards on duty.

While the danger zone, city officials emphasized, is not under military law, 50 National Guardsmen in two squads have been placed on duty to keep outsiders from entering.

Evidence of another explosion, indicating that the underground menace may extend over a wider area than at first supposed, was discovered. This blast, a block from the "busy corner," was of sufficient strength to affect the foundation of the city's tallest building, the 15-story First National Bank block.

The manager of the building, from which all employees had been evacuated, returned to check conditions in the sub-basement and found thousands of pieces of crockery thrown from shelves to the floor. Plaster on the walls showed the effects of an explosion below the surface of the street, apparently near the structure.

Tunnels To Aid In Emergency At Tunneltown, Va.

Tunneltown, Va., Feb. 19.—(AP)—Dr. C. R. McGuffie had an emergency call from the home of R. H. Halbritter, but it was two miles away, the roads were full of snow and it seemed he was hopelessly blocked.

Superintendent N. W. Montgomery of a nearby mine came to the rescue. Aboard a mine motor, Dr. McGuffie was transported underground to an exit a few feet from the Halbritter residence.

The others, Bishop Schlarman said, told the committee conditions within the prison had improved since Warden Joseph Ragen assumed office last October.

Sneak-Thief Gets $33,056 In Gems

Miami Beach, Fla., Feb. 19.—(AP)—Police today hunted a sneak-thief who stole jewels valued at $33,056 from guests' handbags at a fashionable dinner party last night at the winter home of Mrs. B. A. Howe of Greenwich, Conn. The missing pieces included an emerald and diamond brooch, an emerald and diamond ring, a diamond wrist watch and two diamond and emerald bracelets.

TERSE ITEMS OF NEWS GATHERED IN DIXON DURING DAY

IN AMBOY FRIDAY, The Lee County Old Age Pension Commission will be at the city hall in Amboy at 9 o'clock Friday morning to assist applicants for the state relief.

BANKS TO STAY OPEN.

Because Saturday is Dollar Day in Dixon the banks of Dixon, co-operating with the merchants of the city, have decided to forego their usual Washington's Birthday holiday, it was announced this morning.

DIXON'S MODEL HOME.

Dement Schuler received a letter today from a Quincy lumber firm asking for specifications on the model home constructed here last summer. A picture of the Dixon model home appeared in a recent issue of the Illinois State Building Material magazine.

FIRE IN ATTIC.

Fire believed to have started from an overheated stove threatened the residence of James Williams, 908 Jackson avenue, this morning at 6:30. The fire found its way between the walls and then burned into the attic. The fire department was summoned and extinguished the flames. The amount of damage was reported to be covered by insurance.

HAD RUSH ORDER.

The Howell Organ Manufacturing Co. of this city was forced to work all night to get out four caskets, a rush order for a Sycamore undertaker. The caskets were made of "eternal" wood and were for Mr. and Mrs. Albert Jackson and two children, Laverne, 8, and Marilyn, 2, who were asphyxiated by gas which escaped into their home in Sycamore Monday night.

LEOPOLD REFUSED INFORMATION TO GRAND JURY

Other Prisoners Also Fail to Give Loeb Murder Clues

Joliet, Ill., Feb. 19.—(AP)—The Will county grand jury, investigating the slaying of Richard Loeb, Chicago "thrill killer" in Stateville penitentiary, recessed today but planned to visit the prison tomorrow and learn at first hand of life within its walls.

For six minutes yesterday Nathan Leopold, Loeb's partner in the killing of little Bobby Franks and, like Loeb, serving a life plus 99-year term, was before the grand jurors—but his testimony, it was reported, consisted mainly of "I don't care to answer."

Leopold left the prison for the first time in 11 years, along with three fellow convicts, to go before the grand jury in response to a writ demanding from him any information he might possess concerning Loeb's death from razor wounds inflicted by James Day, another convict.

Wouldn't Answer

William R. McCabe, state's attorney, questioned Leopold and the others—Gale Swolley, George Blas and Edward Sklepowski. When asked about his last visits with Loeb, his knowledge of the crime, and the motive, McCabe said Leopold replied to each:

"I don't care to answer."

Nothing was learned from the others, the prosecutor added.

Meanwhile, a citizen's committee named by Gov. Henry Horner continued its inquiry within the prison itself. Bishop J. H. Schlarman, head of the Catholic diocese of Peoria and chairman of the committee, said that four unnamed prisoners had been questioned.

One, he said, who was an assistant to Loeb in the operations of the prison correspondence school, denied discrimination and favoritism existed at the prison. He also discounted reports of perversion among convicts.

The others, Bishop Schlarman said, told the committee conditions within the prison had improved since Warden Joseph Ragen assumed office last October.

DeKalb Doctor Facing Arrest as Result of Miss Marion Buck's Demise

Warrant for Arrest of Dr. F. E. Cheney Sought Today

At the close of the inquest into the death of Miss Marion Buck of Franklin Grove at noon today, Assistant State's Attorney Gerald Jones went to Sycamore to prefer criminal charges against Dr. F. E. Cheney of DeKalb, as the result of the verdict returned by the coroner's jury. State's Attorney Latham Castle of DeKalb county was present throughout the hearing, which opened at 9:30 this morning at the Franklin Grove village hall. Several witnesses testified before the jury and at the conclusion of the investigation, the following verdict was returned:

"We, the jury, sworn to inquire into the death of Marion Buck, on oath do find that she came to her death by septic abortion complicated by general peritonitis and mesenteric embolus, said septic abortion having been performed on said deceased by one certain Dr. Cheney of DeKalb, Ill., on January 22, January 26 and February 1, 1936, death having occurred at the Dixon public hospital in Dixon, Lee county, Illinois on Sunday, February 16, 1936, at 5:45 P. M.

"F. D. Kelley, foreman, "A. J. Stewart, "W. W. Phillips, "Earl Fish, "Wayne Bates, "Ed Knouse."

Father First Witness

Assistant State's Attorney Jones conducted the examination of all of the witnesses. Dorsey Buck, father of the young woman, was the first to testify. He stated that Marion was born in Franklin Grove, June 1, 1911, and at this point, he broke down and sobbed. Recovering his composure, he added that she passed away at the Dixon public hospital Feb. 16. Marion was taken sick Sunday, Feb. 2, he continued, and Dr. F. E. Cheney of Franklin Grove was summoned to the home. A nurse was called on the same date at the suggestion of the attending physician and upon his orders, Marion was later removed to the Dixon public hospital. The father had no knowledge of her condition, he testified, until notified by her physician.

Dr. Cheney of Franklin Grove testified that he was called to the Buck home on Feb. 2 about 5 o'clock in the afternoon and found the young woman to have a high temperature. Responses to questions by the physician as to the history of her illness were somewhat unsatisfactory, he added. Upon a second call to the home about two hours later, he became suspicious of her condition and the patient then told him of having had an abortion performed by Dr. Cheney of DeKalb. Dr. Cheney informed the father of the young woman and Mrs. Helen Rickard, a registered nurse of Dixon, was summoned and remained with the patient for four days, when her condition appeared more satisfactory and the high temperature subsided. On Feb. 10, the statement continued, she was moved to the Dixon public hospital, when the temperature again mounted and the physician was aware that peritonitis had developed. Upon her arrival at the hospital a blood transfusion was given. The high temperature continued for two consecutive days, Dr. Cheney testified but on Feb. 14 she showed signs of improvement and her temperature was reduced.

Suffered Relapse

On the morning of Feb. 15 and throughout the day until about 4 o'clock in the afternoon, her condition remained good and she was believed to be apparently on the way to recovery. Shortly later, she suffered a relapse and was in a condition of collapse, when a second transfusion was resorted to. Her condition persistently became worse until her death at 4:45 Sunday afternoon. Dr. Cheney testified that Dr. Charles E. LeSage of this city was called in consultation at the hospital.

After being informed of her critical condition, the patient made a second statement, when informed that she might die, and this was taken by Miss Florence, superintendent at the hospital in the presence of Mrs. Rickard and the attending physician. The physician's examination confirmed her statement, Dr. Cheney added.

Gave Girl's Statement

He reviewed the girl's statement, which was to the effect that she had visited Dr. Cheney at his office in DeKalb on Jan. 22, 26 and again on Feb. 1 and paid him $25 for his services in having an abortion performed. In her statement she was

Unusual Surgery

Lowell, Mass., Feb. 19.—(AP)—A surgeon, standing on the swaying tip of an extension ladder, performed an amputation today on John McCoy, Lowell Gas Light Company worker, whose arm was jammed between the control cab of a traveling crane and a steel girder 50 feet above the ground.

He was conscious throughout the operation, Dr. N. Gilmor Long, the surgeon said. He is in a critical condition at a hospital.

He had swung by jammed arm for an hour while workmen and firemen tried to free him.

MERCHANTS PLAN MOVE TO COMBAT STORM'S EFFECT

Cooperate in Drive of Two Days to Bring Trade to Dixon

Feeling that their patrons are justly entitled to the bargains usually offered in February, and believing that most of the roads in the Dixon trading territory will be opened for traffic by the end of the week, Dixon merchants today announced that the annual last winter Dollar Days will be observed here Friday and Saturday of this week. It had been planned to hold their annual sales event last week-end, but the condition of the highways caused a postponement.

And to make the event more appealing than ever before, and to give spring trade an impetus the co-operating merchants have determined to make the bargains to be offered more attractive than ever. Prices have been slashed mercilessly for the two day bargain carnival and traders will find unusual values in the local stores. The bargain ads are carried in this issue of The Telegraph which goes into every home in the Dixon trading area, will convince thrifty buyers that it will be to their interest to shop in Dixon this week-end. Read them over and you will find that probably not ever in your lifetime have you been able to buy fine quality merchandise at such low figures.

Whether you want an automobile tire or a package of tobacco or a suit of clothes or a roast of meat or some new dishes or a bed room suite—no matter what you want to buy, you can come to Dixon on Friday and Saturday and find thousands of bargains such as you have never seen before and probably never will see again.

COLD RECORD BROKEN

Des Moines, Ia., Feb. 19.—(AP)—The cold wave broke a 51-year-old record in Des Moines. The mercury stayed below zero for 108 consecutive hours, breaking the old record of 84 hours set in January, 1885. Earlier this year the mercury stayed below zero 83 hours.

Five Firemen Killed in Collapse of Odd Fellow Temple, Columbus

Columbus, O., Feb. 19.—(AP)—Five firemen lost their lives, and at least 11 were injured in a spectacular fire that left a 72-year-old lodge hall in ice-covered ruins today.

A falling wall killed Capt. Otto Ignatz and Robert Welsh and Firemen Herbert Harrington and Oliver Metzger after the three-alarm blaze which threatened an entire block had been brought under control. Lieut. Harry McPadden died several hours later in a hospital.

RELIEF FROM COLD BY WEEK END IS SEEN

Gas and Fires Add Perils to a Cold-Buffered Nation

Chicago, Feb. 19.—(AP)—Gas and fire perils today gave a cold buffered nation new anxieties.

One section of the Utica, N. Y., business district, closed by National Guardsmen after gas explosions yesterday, was shaken by a new blast which blew sewer covers 20 feet into the air.

Belleville and East St. Louis, Ill., citizens kept windows open despite bitter cold, to reduce danger from similar gas leaks. Four have died and 64 others have become ill in the two cities.

The Midwest sub-zero belt was warming up as the record-breaking cold moved east, engulfing all the Atlantic states except southern Florida.

Relief Promised

Forecasters said a low-pressure area over Utah promised relief at least by the end of the week.

Rescue expeditions of ski-equipped planes were organized in Meade county, South Dakota, where seven isolated towns, imprisoned by frozen 10 foot drifts, appealed for aid. The air rescue efforts, directed from Spearfish, began bringing out adults and children needing medical attention, and dropping food supplies.

Five firemen were killed when fire destroyed a three story lodge hall in Columbus, O. At least 11 persons were injured.

Both Clarence Griggs, 54, and his son, Clarence Jr., 16, were believed killed when their Ypsilanti, Mich., home burned. Frederick Anderson, 73, suffocated after an overturned stove fired his Chicago flat.

Lake Ice Field

Lake Michigan was a tremendous ice field, almost entirely frozen over for the first time in years.

The Dakotas reported rising temperatures—with 26 below the overnight's coldest reading. Watertown, S. D., has spent 38 consecutive days below zero, with an average, for the first 18 days of February, of 7.3 below. Minnesota's worst was minus 29 at Crookston.

Galena, Ill., reported an unofficial low of 32 below, and Cardinals, back for spring, were sighted.

Snowbound eleven days, the 200 residents of Athelstan, Iowa, sat down to hearty breakfasts in warm houses after a train broke through the drifts bearing food and coal.

Harry Fine Victim of Heart Attack at Cottage Last Night

Harry Fine, life long resident of Dixon, Grand Detour and vicinity, died very suddenly last evening about 8 o'clock at the Shady Rest cottage east of the city in the Bend where he resided with Edward N. Trautman. He was reading a magazine when he gasped and slumped in his chair. Mr. Trautman notified Sheriff W. C. Miller and Dr. Robert Sidde went to the home to examine the body and learned that death had been almost instantaneous and evidently from a heart attack. The body was removed to the Staples mortuary where Coroner Frank M. Banker will conduct an inquest at 3:30 this afternoon.

The deceased was born in Grand Detour July 2, 1873 and had resided in this vicinity all his life. His wife preceded him in death a few years ago and he is survived by a sister, Mrs. Charles Mumma of this city and one brother Leon of Natchez, Miss. Funeral arrangements had not been completed today and will be announced later.

Fruin Made Acting Postmaster Today

(Telegraph Special Service) Washington, Feb. 19.—Postmaster General James A. Farley today announced the appointment of George J. Fruin, Dixon Democrat, as acting postmaster at Dixon to succeed John E. Moyer, Republican incumbent who recently resigned.

The Dixon assessor, life long worker in the Democratic party, had been expecting appointment to the Dixon postmastership for some time, but today he had received no instructions from Washington as to when he should take over the office.

Appointment By Horner Held Up By State Solons

Springfield, Ill., Feb. 19—(AP)—The Senate, for the second time during the campaign split in the Democratic party, has refused to vote immediate confirmation of an appointment by Governor Horner. The name of Charles K. Schwartz of Chicago was sent to a new member of the state tax commission, to replace Barnett Hodges of Chicago, who now is Mayor Kelly's corporation counsel.
Anti-Horner senators objected to immediate confirmation, which is customary, and the appointment was sent to the executive committee.

HARMON NEWS

By Margaret Anderson
Harmon, — Harold Considine spent a couple of days in Dixon with his grandmother, Mrs. J. J. Blackburn. Mrs. Blackburn has been quite sick, is much better at this writing.

A pretty wedding took place at the parsonage of the M. E. church on Tuesday evening at 6 o'clock, when Miss Ruby Hicks became the bride of George Jacobs with Rev. Smith officiating.

The bride was lovely in a powder blue crepe gown with accessories to match, while her bridesmaid, Miss Elma McCarter was becoming in a royal blue gown also harmonizing accessories. The bridegroom was attended by the bride's brother, Russell Hicks.

Several relatives and friends and the wedding party were served a wedding dinner at the home of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. John Hicks. The bridegroom is the youngest son of Mr. and Mrs. Benj. Jacobs of Amboy.

Their many friends wish them congratulations and best wishes for the years to follow.

The young couple will reside on a farm in this vicinity.

The rural carriers, I. H. Perkins and E. T. McCormick worked as much of their mail routes the past week as possible, but the drifts in the country roads are so high that they could not reach many places. With no mail delivery for a few days, the Dixon Telegraph was received with enthusiasm and appreciation.

Farmers have been getting to town by crossing fields in bobsleds, improvised sleds and occasional sleighs and in some instances wagons.

Miss Mary McCormick returned home from Dixon after spending several days with her brother and wife, Mr. and Mrs. Eddie McCormick and family. The McCormick children have been confined to their home with the whooping cough, but are now getting along good.

G. C. Lehman, was a Saturday afternoon caller in Dixon.

Walter Schlipf, road commissioner, and Lloyd Considine motored to Forreston the latter part of the week on business.

In memory of my father, Martin McDermott, who passed away on Feb. 22, 1934:

Two long years have passed away And the wound has never healed, That pain has never left my heart, Since his life in death was sealed. Father dear, although you left us, Our loss has been your gain; I hope in Heaven, we'll meet you, In a world that is free from pain. Still in fancy we can see you As we go about the place; With your kind words of greeting, And a smile upon your face.

Your dear hands once so useful, Have been folded on your breast; We have laid you to sleep in Holy Cross.

In your narrow bed at rest, The spring will bring us flowers again.

In all their smiling grace; Still all my longing shall be in vain To see your vanished face.

No earthly spring will ever wake, Our loved one from his rest; Though at times it seems as if My heart would surely break.

Yet I feel as though God knew 'twas best.

State Supreme Court Considers Kerner's Appeal

Springfield, Ill., Feb. 19—(AP)—The Illinois Supreme Court today agreed to consider Attorney General Otto Kerner's appeal attempting to force former Mayor William Hale Thompson of Chicago and others to account for funds collected for Mississippi River valley flood sufferers in 1927.

Kerner alleged the committee headed by Thompson received $139,772 in donations, spent $35,848 in behalf of sufferers, turned over $31,131 to the Red Cross and "needlessly spent" $72,794 in "junkets" to Washington and other activities which did not benefit flood victims.

The court consented to review the first appellate court's decision in favor of Thompson.

DEPUTY PLEADS GUILTY TO HIS PART IN THEFT

Eighth Man is Sought in St. Charles Bank Stick-up Today

Chicago, Feb. 19—(AP)—Preliminary hearings for three of seven men accused of robbing the St. Charles (Ill.) National Bank of $16,300 on Jan. 31 had been waived today after arraignment before U. S. Commissioner Edwin K. Walker. James Kobart, Will county deputy sheriff who was arrested yesterday as the owner of the robbers' hide-out, pleaded guilty before Commissioner Walker yesterday.

"Yes, Your Honor, I am guilty," he said. "You understand I wasn't in the bank robbery."

Hearings also were waived by Sam Bongiorno, Chicago, and Philip Dimenza, St. Charles. Pleas of innocence were entered by Percy Rhem, St. Charles florist; John P. Gordon, a special St. Charles police officer, and Leo Friedman and Fred T. Hansen, both of Chicago. They will be given a hearing before Walker Monday.

Bonds Are Heavy
When Hansen's bond was set at $100,000 and that of the rest at $60,000 each, defense attorneys protested. Walker agreed to consider reductions in the amounts today.

Dimenza, Federal agents charged, was the source of information leading to the arrest of the gang. He was said to have been overheard boasting of "a stickup" while drinking in a tavern. He revealed the names of the others after questioning, U. S. Attorney Michael Igoo said.

Officials indicated that an eighth man was being sought.

BIG GOLD CACHE DISCOVERED IN NEW YORK VAULT

10,000 $20 Gold Pieces in Name of Resident of Switzerland

New York, Feb. 19—(AP)—A measure of mystery cloaked the action of federal agents today as they investigated a cache of 10,000 $20 gold coins, seized in a surprise raid on a safety deposit vault in a New York bank.

Although secret service agents here refused to disclose the name of the depositor of the gold, now worth about $338,000, officials in Washington said the safe deposit box had been issued in the name of Zelek Josefowitz.

The box was opened yesterday at the Chemical Safe Deposit Company after government agents, working on a tip, had quietly searched for weeks for the hoard.

Rented Through Agent
An official of the Safe Deposit Company said that Josefowitz and two other members of his family, whose names he could not recall, rented the vault through an agent. The family, he said, are citizens of Lausanne, Switzerland, and none of them ever had personal access to the vault.

According to William H. Houghton, head of the secret service, members of the family recently "cabled a similar sum" to Switzerland, and its ultimate objective is believed to have been Germany.

Officials here and in Washington declined to comment on reports that agents had also found $2,000,000 on deposit under the name of Josefowitz.

The seizure, largest made here since the president's order of Aug. 28, 1933 calling in all gold, was made under the gold reserve act which carries with it possibility of confiscation of the gold and a penalty equal to twice the value of the gold found.

DeKalb Doctor—

that Zigler was informed that the young woman was in a dying condition and that Zigler asked to be permitted to see her. He was admitted to her room and Marion requested Zigler to talk with her family. Later, Zigler asked Dr. Duncan's advice about going to DeKalb and seeing Dr. Cheney, the physician continued. Later in the afternoon, Zigler and a member of the young woman's family went to Dr. Duncan's home in Franklin Grove, and at that time, Zigler was on his way to DeKalb, the physician stated. Later in the day, Zigler again contacted the Franklin Grove physician to announce that he had visited Dr. Cheney and that the latter had requested that Dr. Duncan write him a letter, upon receipt of which, the expenses incurred would be paid.

Didn't Write Letter
"I did not write that letter," Dr. Duncan stated.

He then told of calling Dr. LeSage of this city, in consultation, and as the result of which the Dixon physician diagnosed the case as one of septic abortion and peritonitis. Dr. LeSage was unable to be present at the inquisition and his deposition was read to the jury by the Assistant State's Attorney.

Lyle Zigler, aged 35, of Sterling, a factory worker, appeared voluntarily at the inquest after conferring with an attorney and testified before the jury. He stated that he did not know of the young woman's illness until upon receipt of the telegram, when he came to the Dixon hospital the following day to see her. Zigler maintained that he at no time advised Miss Buck to consult Dr. Cheney of DeKalb, but that he did recommend that she consult a physician when she informed him of her condition, and gave her $25 to pay the fee.

He added that she came to the factory in Rock Falls where he was employed and that he gave her the keys to his car, where she waited for him. He continued, stating that Miss Buck had informed him that she had consulted Dr. Cheney in DeKalb.

Visited Dr. Cheney
Last Sunday, Zigler stated, he went to DeKalb to confer with Dr. Cheney and met him at his home, where they conversed on the enclosed porch. He told of telling the DeKalb physician of the young woman's serious condition and expressing his fear that she might not be alive upon his return to Dixon. Zigler stated that he told the doctor that the young woman's parents were unable to pay the hospital and funeral expenses.

Zigler stated that he asked Dr. Cheney about paying some of the bills and was advised that Mrs. Cheney was very ill in the home and for this reason, they conversed on the enclosed porch.

The DeKalb physician advised him, Zigler said, to return to Franklin Grove and have Dr. Duncan write, adding that were he in any way to blame for the girl's death, that he would assume the entire blame and would make payments as soon and as fast as he could. Zigler returned to Franklin Grove and conveyed this information to Dr. Duncan, he testified.

Dr. David Murphy of this city, who was ordered by Coroner Frank M. Banker to conduct a post mortem examination of the body, reported his findings of the autopsy which was performed Monday afternoon at 4:30 at the Hicks funeral home in Franklin Grove. A pathological report of the organs was also read into the testimony.

The town hall was crowded by eager listeners as the inquest was reconvened at 9:30 this morning. Coroner Banker empaneled the jury Monday afternoon at the Hicks funeral home, where the body was viewed and the inquest recessed until today.

WHITES TAKEN BY ITALIANS SENT TO ITALY

Red Cross Officials Tell Geneva, Agreement Violated

(Copyright, 1936, The Associated Press)

With the Italian Northern Army at the Front Line, Feb. 19—The first white man captured by the Italian army on the northern front in Ethiopia left today as prisoner of war for Italy.

The men are Dr. Maximilian Stanislaw Below, 36, and Thadeus Medynski, a Warsaw newspaper correspondent. Both Poles said they were citizens of Poland and attached to the Ethiopian medical service. They surrendered Feb. 18 in the battle of Amba Aradam.

Leslie Brown, secretary in Addis Ababa for the International Red Cross, cabled to Geneva demanding that an explanation be obtained from the Italian government for the capture of the two Poles. Red Cross officials in Addis Ababa claimed their capture as prisoners of war was a violation of the International Red Cross convention.

Quarrelled With American.
Dr. Below joined Dr. T. A. Lambie, the American director of the Ethiopian medical mission in the interior, in September, 1934. Dr. Below told the Italian intelligence service, before he and his companion were taken to Massaua to sail, that he quarrelled with Dr. Lambie and joined the Ethiopian Red Cross in September, 1935.

At that time, he said, he left the medical mission in Jemma and went to Addis Ababa to receive a monthly salary of 400 shillings—about $500 at the local rate of exchange.

Had Studied Medicine.
Medynski who is 26 years old, went to Addis Ababa from Warsaw last September as a war correspondent for the Warsaw Kurier Polanski. In Addis Ababa he met Dr. Below and, having studied medicine in Poland, contracted to become the physician's assistant at a salary of 125 shillings a month.

The two Poles left Addis Ababa in November for the northern front, with Dr. Below in charge of a hospital unit of three trucks, 21 male nurses and hospital equipment.

They were stationed at Dessye during the big Italian air raid last year, leaving later in December with a caravan of 125 mules guarded by soldiers.

Weatherman Works for Coal Man Now

Chicago, Feb. 19—(AP)—The weather man has gone to work for the coal man this year and it's costing the nation millions of dollars, M. G. Bluth, Chicago manager of the National Coal Association, said.

Coal consumption—for heating purposes only—is up about 30 per cent in Chicago, he said, and at least that much in other places where the weather has been coming on a sub-zero basis.

Bluth said Chicago usually burns from 12 to 15 million tons of coal a year just to keep warm, but that this year the total would be from 15 to 18 million tons.

Translated into dollars and cents and using an average of $7 a ton, he said, it appears that the coal man is going to reap a harvest of something over $20,000,000 more than usual in Chicago alone.

state police to resume the investigation of the crime. He also suggested other cooperating police enforcement groups would willingly aid the New Jersey authorities.

Schwarzkopf complied with the order and has been making weekly reports to the governor, but no new evidence apparently has been developed to indicate either that Hauptmann had no part in the crime, or that anyone else save himself was involved.

A short time before the warrant was signed it was learned the governor and two defense figures had met in a Brooklyn conference which lasted from 8 P. M. last night until midnight.

The governor met Chief Defense Counsel C. Lloyd Fisher and Samuel S. Liebowitz. Their discussion, it was reported, could be heard "all over the hall" of the hotel.

Leibowitz said he and his secretary conferred throughout the evening at a Brooklyn hotel, but denied that Fisher and the governor were with them. The New York attorney has been asked to aid in Hauptmann's defense.

Flag Souvenir Held By Legion Post, Roodhouse

Washington, Feb. 19—(AP)—The Roodhouse, Ill., American Legion Post has, through the efforts of Representative Scott W. Lucas, Havana Democrat, obtained the flag which flew over the national capitol January 21 to 22—the period during which the bonus measure was debated and passed.

Although somewhat tattered by the wintry winds, the flag was sought by various American Legion posts throughout the country. Lucas, former judge advocate general of the National Legion, got his request in early, however. In fact, the Illinois representative has been on the "waiting list" for a flag for nearly a year.

When the bonus debate was underway the capitol architect had many requests for the flag that was then flying but Lucas, by insisting that the usual order of the waiting list be maintained, emerged the victor.

DON'T FORGET.

By Joseph Fort Newton.
DON'T forget that life is just what we make it, whether it be a place of fog and dirt or a garden of clear air and blue skies.

Don't forget that each of us must live with a self ashamed of some yesterday and afraid of some tomorrow, and that if we cannot be happy with ourselves we cannot be happy with anyone else.

Don't forget that happiness and security are found, not by building walls around ourselves, but by building bridges to our fellowmen.

Don't forget that each man fights a hard fight against heavy odds—so why put a straw in his way when he has obstacles enough?

Don't forget that there are two ways of living—one ugly, loud, and vulgar; the other lovely, fragrant, and full of the courtesies of heaven.

Don't forget that the only real wealth is the dividend for investments in the good life, and that it accrues by compound interest.

Don't forget that the way of patience, of justice, of seeing the other man's point of view, is the easiest and happiest way of life.

Don't forget that a duty dodged is like a debt unpaid; it is only deferred, and we must come back and settle the account at last.

Don't forget that your worst enemy is a better man than you think he is, and that he may become your best friend, if you are wise.

Don't forget that "I cannot" really means "I am afraid," an alibi for some secret failure, and that you will not be happy till you win out.

Don't forget that if we are healthy, brave and wise we overtake our years, whereas if we are sick and fearful they overtake us.

Don't forget that life is a hard discipline without much furlough and we must cease self-pity and ask no quarter for ourselves.

Don't forget that life is very short at the longest, and that the things you will not regret are the kindnesses along the road.

Don't forget that we have to live with God, the final judge, and that He will not let us be happy until we are what He wills us to be.

Don't forget that if our hopes are dupes our fears are the worst liars.

WILLING WORKERS

CLASS HAD MEETING—

The Willing Workers Sunday school class of the Grace Evangelical church held their regular monthly meeting at the home of Mrs. and Mr. John Schick.

The president had charge of a short business session and appointed a committee who will have charge of the Easter program. Mrs. Schmidt gave an interesting Lesson Study on "His Steadfastness."

A pleasant social time was enjoyed by all present, after which delicious refreshments were served by the host and hostess, Mr. and Mrs. Schick.

Phidians Learn of Iraq, Cradle of Civilization, Tuesday

Very candidly Miss Armington treated her subject "Iraq, Cradle of Civilization" in an entertaining as well as instructive paper which she read before the Phidian Art club at the E. B. Raymond home Tuesday afternoon.

Whether material is gathered from antiquated parchment or modern fiction the dust and the drought of the land of ancient origin seem to dominate all other ideas. This secluded portion of the Near East lying between the Tigris and Euphrates rivers has been a battleground for innumerable conquests and has been under the domination of many empires. In spite of this, the people have retained a certain distinct existence. At present it is a British mandate with Bagdad as its capital.

Mrs. E. H. Prince gave a resume of a day at the Women's congress which she attended in Chicago last week.

During the social hour, tea was enjoyed. Mrs. W. H. Coppins and Miss Jean Hitchcock poured. Mrs. Raymond was assisted in the serving by Mrs. Donald Raymond and Mrs. Philip Raymond.

Stony Point P. T. A. Met Monday Evening

The postponed meeting of the Stony Point P. T. A. was held at the school Monday evening.

The attendance was quite large considering the weather conditions. The business session was followed by a hort program:

Song, "America, the Beautiful"—All.

Composition, "Lincoln's Sons"—Charley Vlad.

Solo—Mary Lou Williams.

Papers by upper grade room pupils.

Lincoln's Life—Murphy Stanley.

St. Valentine's Day—Mary Risley.

Biography of Washington—Kenneth Stanley.

These well-written papers brought forth favorable comment.

The chairman then introduced Co. Superintendent L. W. Miller who gave his fine illustrated talk on the great work of Whittier.

"Snowbound." These interesting pictures and Mr. Miller's delightful manner of presenting them inspired his hearers to read or re-read this author's works.

The president, Mrs. Risley, announced the next meeting on the regular date, March 6.

At the conclusion of the meeting refreshments were served by the committee.

PRESBYTERIAN W. M. S. MEETS FRIDAY—

The Women's Missionary Society of the Presbyterian church will meet with Mrs. H. C. BOARD OF THREE TO ADMINISTER STATE'S RELIEF

Legislative Leaders Decide on New Setup to Succeed IERC

Springfield, Ill., Feb. 19.—(AP)—A board of three state officials, instead of the Auditor alone, was decided upon today as the agency to distribute unemployment funds under the new relief set-up.

Senate leaders prepared to make final changes in the Lyons-O'Neill bill establishing local control as a substitute for the Illinois Emergency Relief Commission, one of the major issues on which action must be taken before the adjournment of the three special sessions in early March is possible.

A long group of amendments was submitted. An agreement was reached last night that the governor, the auditor and the treasurer, who comprise the state tax levy board, should be responsible for the allocation of sales tax funds to the counties on the basis of need. The bill in the House concentrated this authority in the hands of the auditor.

Other Amendments
Other amendments would give the IERC authority to dispose of its equipment when it is retired from active relief work under a new law that Governor Horner did not sign.

Plans were made for the week-end recess to start on Wednesday afternoon, postponing until next week the final action on the relief set-up. Only a handful of House members were expected to be in Springfield today.

Senate leaders said they were willing to concur in a House resolution for sine die adjournment the first week of March.

While Governor Horner was on his return trip from a Florida vacation, word was received that a fourth special session is wanted by the Chicago real estate board to legislate against illegal tax levies.

Lieut. Gov. Thomas F. Donovan, who is acting governor in the absence of Horner, did not preside over the Senate last night because of a constitutional question.

It's Getting Harder To Tell These Now: Found Snow, July 4

Says Mayor S. H. Feigley of Rock Falls.

"There were snowballs in July back in 1881, the year of the big snows."

Feigley recalls hearing his mother and father tell of the snowball which "Doc" Boynton of Rock Falls brought to Rock Falls on the Fourth of July in that year.

As the story goes, Boynton, conductor on the Shabbona passenger stopped his train at Paw Paw July 4, 1881, and there under some leaves found snow from which he made a snowball. The snow had been so deep during the winter that in places protected from the sun it had not melted.

For 28 days that spring there was not a train running on the Burlington railroad. He does not explain how he kept the snowball from melting on the trip from Paw Paw to Rock Falls.

THE TVA DECISION

In rendering its decision on the TVA case, the supreme court of the United States hewed to the same line it followed in all other New Deal cases and those closely allied with them. That line is the constitution.

As presented to the high court, the case was divested of all the folderol of electrical apparatus merchandising and of that much publicized ideal—the yardstick.
Those elements were dropped in anticipation of the fact that the court might adhere to the constitution.

As presented to the court, then, the question was whether or not the federal government had the right under its power to provide for the national defense, to construct the Wilson dam at Muscle Shoals and to sell for private distribution such power as was manufactured in excess of that required for government use; and the further question as to whether the TVA was created to improve navigation of the Tennessee river.

That got the questions down to a fairly simple basis.
Commenting upon arguments before the court in this case, Paul Mallon, Washington correspondent, wrote:

"To an outsider it may be amazing, but government counsel had to concede that all the federal 'yardstick' power projects are unconstitutional as such. Both Solicitor Reed and Special Counsel O'Brian admitted the projects must be for the purposes of navigation, national defense or flood control, else they are illegal. The development of power can be only incidental.

"This puts the shoe on the opposite foot, Messrs.
Roosevelt, Norris and congress have been bearing down on the other one publicly. Their statements have placed greatest weight on the power angle, with incidental pressure, if any, upon navigation, national defense and flood control."

That pares down the issues before the supreme court so they readily may be understood by most of us.

About the only point left to the supreme court, after the case had been divested of the peddling of electrical wares and of the "yardstick" feature, was whether or not the Tennessee river is a navigable stream. Any of us who have informed ourselves about the Mississippi river and its tributaries knows that steamboats ply the Tennessee river, and that packets continued there as long as they operated on the upper Mississippi.

The origin of this project was the establishment of a nitrate plant during the war. The war was over before the project became operative. For ten years the Wilson dam and its surroundings at Muscle Shoals constituted a white elephant. There is a long story of constitutional arguing, but we shall not go into that, further than to say that Henry Ford offered to take the plant once, tired of government bickering, and withdrew.

When the New Deal gave the Tennessee Valley authority, it made the act broad enough so that one or more corporations were formed in New Jersey under it, enabling the incorporators to launch into almost any business activity known to the country. Emphasis was laid on the fact that the government was going into the power business for the purpose of establishing a "yardstick" which could be laid down beside private corporation rates to show how the public was being overcharged.

It wasn't long before sufficient information was available to the public on the bookkeeping methods of the TVA to make it plain that the TVA was giving us only a crooked yardstick and that under its setup it never would be anything but a cheat in that respect.

So, when the government lawyers went into court, they conveniently left behind them the business of retailoring curling irons, toasters, ice boxes and electric stoves. They conveniently left behind them the much advertised yardstick. They went contending that Wilson dam was constructed for the purpose of national defense and that improvement of the Tennessee river has been to promote its navigability. Having attended to the national defense and having, by use of dams, improved the navigable qualities of the river, the government had some electricity left over, which it contended it had a

The court held it had a right so to do.

As this decision applies to the New Deal and its aims and objectives, it may be recalled that President Roosevelt delivered an address in Mississippi in one of the municipalities benefiting from the Tennessee river project and announced his purpose to promote such a project in every state. In that connection the question arises as to whether a national defense issue and a navigable stream can be found in all the states.

We are wondering how navigable are Senator Nor-ris's Loup rivers in Nebraska.

There was a merry ha ha or two that went up when what was known as Hoover dam, but under Roose-veltian auspices is Boulder dam, was authorized as a means of producing power on the theory that the Colorado river was a navigable stream.

It does not appear that in deciding the case in hand the supreme court went into any fine points. Those decided in favor of the government were points on which there ought to be slight disagreement.

Justice McReynolds dissents, but in so doing he takes a full view of the advertised purposes of the New Dealers in entering the power business. He takes them at their word that their objective was the manufacture and sale of power, navigation being a secondary matter.
He accepts their declaration that their purposes was to create a yardstick on cost of power.

All of the other justices held to the precise issues, and, as Justice Hughes said, did not undertake to settle abstract questions.

AH, WILDERNESS!

One is inclined to agree with Secretary Ickes that the primitive attractions in our state and national parks should be guarded zealously. The secretary feels that too many highways lace our parks today, with the result that the rugged, natural beauty of these spots has been diminished.

Roads, of course, are important for their value in bringing the parks to lovers of the great outdoors. But the road building should cease once the beauty centers of the parks have been made available.

Certainly the commercialization of these areas with attendant billboards, hot-dog stands and filling stations is no asset to natural outdoor splendor. We should retain inviolate some portions of our parks that are literally wildernesses with all their lure. The walking ought not to faze a real tourist.

ONWARD SCOUTS

It is encouraging to note that the membership of the Boy Scouts of America increased more than 6 per cent in the last year, bringing the number of Scouts over the 1,000,000 mark.

Here is a normal outlet for the energies of boys, providing them with the twin benefits of recreation and education at the same time. Were it not for the Scouts, hundreds of thousands of boys would miss some of the finest experiences of their early years.

Training in scouting, plenty of brisk exercise outdoors, association with other youths—these are but a few of the signal opportunities offered by this organization.

Scouting begins where the home leaves off. That is the gap ordinarily difficult to fill. The country can well afford to have many times 1,000,000 Boy Scouts.

SOME OF FORMER TIME TRAPPINGS FOR DEAD 'HOOD'

Jack McGurn's "Pals" Must Up Little of Old Time Splendor

Chicago, Feb. 18.—(AP)—"Machine Gun Jack" McGurn's pals mustered up some of the trappings of more prosperous days to give him the kind of a funeral Capone mobsters used to get.

There was the five foot wreath of flowers, with the simple tag "from the boys." It stood near McGurn's body while police hunted some of "the boys" on the theory it was McGurn's friends who killed him, early Saturday morning, in a bowling hall.

There was also a token from "The Big Fellow"—Al Capone. It was another wreath, four feet of lavender and white flowers, with the card, "From Al."

Capone, imprisoned on Alcatraz Island, was necessarily absent. Since his keepers had declared he would not be told of McGurn's passing, it was supposed members of his family sent the wreath.

Silver-Bronze Coffin.
Amid these tokens McGurn lay in a silver-bronze coffin. While it was no pine box, the highest unofficial estimate of cost reported at the mortuary was $1,000.

In the absence of a priest, the service consisted of five minutes of prayer. McGurn's brother, Anthony Gebardi, muttered the suggestion that all kneel.

Above them was a huge crucifix which in the style of the old gangster funerals was lighted in vivid neon gas. There was also a five foot bleeding heart of red carnations, transfixed with a white dagger, from McGurn's pretty widow, the blonde Louise Rolfe.

"They can't take my darling from me—they can't!" she cried. Old Mrs. Anthony Gebardi, the hoodlum's mother, sobbed "Jeemie!—my Jeemie!", mourning her son in her pet name for him.

People's Column

DEFENDS JOHN LEWIS.

Editor Dixon Telegraph—I am writing this to express my resentment against a part of your article in the Telegraph under date of Feb. 15, entitled "Planned Economy—and Coal." I refer to the part where you refer to John L. Lewis "sitting upon a throne and living at a fashionable hotel," and placing the blame on him for the shortage of coal and suffering for lack of coal. I wonder if the millionaire coal barons live in the mansions and stop at flop-houses; if not, why should John L. Lewis do so?

I dug coal back in 1896-7 at 20c per ton working 10 to 12 hours per day, making from $1.00 to $1.50 per day. The conditions were deplorable to say the least. In 1898 when the first contract between miners and operators went into effect, the conditions were materially changed and for many years continued to improve.

I knew John L. Lewis personally 30 or 35 years ago. He is one of the pioneers that helped to bring "order out of chaos" in the coal business, and after devoting a lifetime of service of trying to better the condition of his fellowmen or Rheumatism Pains is SAFE is Your Doctor.

Ask Him

Don't Entrust Your

Well-Being to Unknown
Preparations

BEFORE you take any preparation you don't know all about, for the relief of headaches; or the pains of rheumatism, neuritis or neuralgia, ask your doctor what he thinks about it—in comparison with Genuine Bayer Aspirin.

We say this because, before the discovery of Bayer Aspirin, most so-called "pain" remedies were advised against by physicians as being bad for the stomach; or, often, for the heart. And the discovery of Bayer Aspirin largely changed medical practice.

Countless thousands of people who have taken Bayer Aspirin year in and out without ill effect, have proved that the medical findings about its safety were correct.

Remember this: Genuine Bayer Aspirin is rated among the fastest methods yet discovered for the relief of headaches and all common pains—and safe for the average person to take regularly.

You can get real Bayer Aspirin at any drug store—simply by never asking for it by the name "aspirin"—but always saying BAYER ASPIRIN when you buy.

TRAFFIC TIPS

by the NATIONAL SAFETY COUNCIL

TAKE YOUR TIME!

In our national cross-road puzzle there is a little five letter word meaning "disaster" and it is spelled S-P-E-E-D.

Many traffic authorities claim that speed was the leading cause of our toll of 35,500 traffic deaths and more than a million injuries during 1934. Others agree that it is one of two or three of the most important causes.

The energy of a moving body is in proportion to the square of the speed. When speed is increased from 20 to 40 miles per hour, the energy is multiplied not by two but by four. A jump from 20 to 60 miles means the energy is multiplied by nine. Which means, that your auto will go that much farther before it can be stopped safely.

Of course, it can be stopped much quicker than that if it happens to crash into a solid object!

Highway haste stumbles over its own heels and causes inexcusable waste of life and property. Speed may be highly desirable at times, but safety is absolutely necessary always. Just remember that Death rides the running board when you drive too fast!

should he not at this time command some prestige and live in respectability. I feel that he is justly entitled to do so. The particular trouble I find with your article, is that it does not place the blame for the shortage of coal and suffering where it belongs.

If the operators would operate their mines two 7-hour shifts each 24 hours instead of one 7-hour shift, employing new men for the extra shift, it would not only relieve the shortage of coal, but for Baby's Cold

Proved best by two generations of mothers.
VICKS

would give employment to thousands of unemployed miners who are daily going from mine to mine asking for work.

As an example of the unemployment situation with the miners: Twelve years ago the U. M. of A. had a membership of more than 100,000 in the state of Illinois; today they have less than one-half that number.

If the coal operators are not willing to help take up the slack of unemployment we might do so by adopting "The Townsend Plan Old Age Pension."

Sincerely yours,
J. E. Jacobs,

AL SMITH WILL HEAD TAMMANY'S PHILA. FORCES

New Deal Foe to be Given Opportunity to Carry On Washington, Feb. 19.—(AP)—Legislators on both sides of Capitol Hill—somewhat jittery after seven weeks of struggle on the floor and committee room—looked ahead today to political clashes that seem certain to make next June a memorable month.

New Dealers—and Republicans, too—wondered what would be the effect of Tammany Hall's selection of Alfred E. Smith as the leader of its delegation to the Democratic national convention in Philadelphia.

Still fresh in the minds of everyone is Smith's threat before the Liberty League here a few weeks to "take a walk" if the convention endorses the New Deal. Four years ago Smith voted against Roosevelt, his former ally, to the last ballot.

Will Have Opportunity. Smith's selection will provide him with ample opportunity to combat the nomination the New Dealers have no doubt about, and to carry out his threat later on.

There was no immediate reaction in the Capital to the former governor's selection. Smith himself was at Palm Beach. In New York his designation was viewed as possibly forecasting an intensification of his fight against the administration.

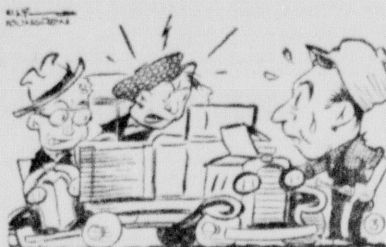

Reports were published and later denied, that Chairman James A. Farley of the Democratic national committee had urged Tammany to name former Mayor James J. Walker to the delegation to counter-act Smith's activity.

Rumors Denied.

Another denied report said that James J. Dooling, Tammany leader, had been in communication with Farley or President Roosevelt in the Capital. Dooling declared that Smith's selection had not

Today's Safe Driving Hint

By the National Safety Council

STARTING

Most drivers have gone through that annoying and sometimes dangerous experience of having their motors die and leave them stranded in the middle of traffic. A thousand horns honk, the policeman yells, and the driver gets panicky.

Don't get out into the line of traffic until the motor has warmed up enough so that it will idle easily. On a cold morning, if you are afraid the motor may die, run slowly in second gear until it warms up.

A good, safe start may save you from a sudden and unexpected finish!

been discussed during his one-day trip to Washington.

Republican activity also featured the New York political front.

The state committee, over-riding minority objections, named eight "regular" delegates at large to the Cleveland convention. Representative Fish, one of the first to come out in support of Senator Borah (R-Ida) for the nomination, fought bitterly but without avail against what he called the "rule or ruin" state party leadership.

There is no true immunity to tuberculosis, the Illinois Tuberculosis Association states. If sufficient tuberculosis germs enter the body, the individual will develop the disease. There is partial immunity, as is shown by the manner in which certain races withstand the disease better than others.

FRANKLIN GROVE

By Grace Pearl

Franklin Grove — The Standard Bearers of which Miss Dorothy Durkes is leader, had a most delightful scramble dinner at the home of Miss Roberta Kint Friday evening.

Twelve guests were seated at the beautifully appointed table, lovely in candlelight and valentine decorations. The place cards were standing valentines. The menu was roast pork, gravy, mashed potatoes, scalloped corn, jelly, rolls, pickles, ice cream and coffee. The salad which was in the form of red hearts and the cinnamon apples also graced the table in carrying out the valentine motif.

After the dinner a business meeting was held, at which time it was decided not to have the tea, which had been postponed due to sell candy at the next church supper.

The rest of the evening was spent playing valentine games. Miss Lucille Yocum winning high and Miss Ida Warrenfeltz low.

Those present were: Misses Lucille Yocum, Katharine Withey, Josephine Kelley, Lida Norris, Margaret Warrenfeltz, Leona Phillips, Dorothy Durkes, Bernice Hartzell, June Condon, Ida Warrenfeltz, Lucille Rhodes and Roberta Kint.

Mrs. Myron Brecunier and daughter Miss Winnifred attended the operetta "The Count and the Countess" presented by the Dixon high school glee clubs in Dixon Saturday night. Mrs. Brecunier's niece Miss Frances Crawford, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Crawford, former residents of this place, had the leading part. "Dolly McSpadden, daughter of a college president" the co-ed. Which part she did very creditably. Miss Frances is a granddaughter of Mrs. Agnes Sunday and Mrs. Carrie Crawford of this place. She has a large circle of friends here who will congratulate her on her success.

Mrs. Gilbert Spratt and son Eugene of Baraboo, Wis., are visiting relatives in this community. They were called to Ashton by the death of her father, Eugene Gibson, whose funeral was held Tuesday.

The many friends of Mr. and Mrs. Burdett Kibbie of near Polo will regret to learn of his illness. They have been snowbound since the first of January. Their neighbors have been bringing them the supplies necessary for comfort.

The Kibbie family are former residents of this community. We are in receipt of a lovely souvenir folder of San Antonio, Texas from Mrs. Arthur Morris, who with her husband are enjoying the warm sunny days of Texas.

Mr. and Mrs. George Ives, Jr., have gone to the home of her parents near Dixon where they will reside for some time. During their absence George Kohl will have charge of the Ives ice cream parlors.

Mr. and Mrs. Chester Dierdorff and son Lyle who moved recently to the late Elmore home moved back to the F. D. Kelley place Friday, where they formerly lived.

Mr. and Mrs. Harry Naylor and family from north of Ashton, and Miss June Miller of this place were Sunday dinner guests at the home of Wm. Naylor and Mrs. Sadie Blaine.

Mrs. Mabel Denry and son Leslie spent Saturday evening in Dixon at the home of her mother, Mrs. Marcey Spratt.

Norman Tompkins who is employed in Joliet spent the week end with relatives at this place.

Misses Drucie and Solona Look-land who have been in Sand- wich caring for their sister, Mrs. Anna Barnhart, who is ill, were called home Monday by the death of their niece, Miss Marion Buck, who died at the Dixon hospital Sunday evening after an illness of only two weeks.

Rev. O. D. Buck of the Church of the Brethren occupied the pulpit in the Presbyterian church Sunday morning in the absence of the regular pastor, Rev. C. P. Blekking.

Tuberculosis germs exposed to fresh air and strong sunlight will not live more than two hours, scientific research has found. Inside the body they live for years.

White Sox Manager Will Try Once More To Sign Up Sewell

Chicago, Feb. 19.—(AP)—President J. Louis Comiskey of the Chicago White Sox will make a final effort tomorrow to get together with catcher Luke Sewell on contract terms.

Sewell, mainstay of the Sox receiving staff, so far hasn't been convinced that his contract calls for enough money. Unless he signs he will not be taken with the first squad which leaves tomorrow for the Pasadena, Calif., training camp.

Along with Sewell, if he comes to terms the first squad will include pitchers Babe Phelps, Red Evans, Ira Hutchinson; catchers George Cathamer and Frank Grube, and infielders Tony Piet and Charles Uhas.

Thousands of dollars are spent annually in Illinois for tuberculin testing cattle, resulting in a great reduction of this disease among dairy herds. A comparatively small sum is spent in tuberculin testing children. Tuberculosis reaches its killing peak between the ages of 20 and 24.

LEE CENTER NEWS

By Mrs. W. S. Frost

Lee Center—Not much news to report from this village on account of the continued sub-zero weather and blocked roads. No school last week, probably none this week unless in the grades and no church services last Sunday.

Community spirit was shown here last week Monday when between 40 and 50 men of all ages shoveled the road west through the town to route 2 highway so that A. J. Carlson seriously ill with heart trouble, could be taken to the home of his daughter, Mrs. Raymond Finn in Amboy to be under medical observation. Mr. Carlson is reported to be somewhat improved which will be good news to his many friends.

Mrs. Lillie Ikens is assisting at the Mrs. Mary Riley home. Mrs. Riley continues in poor health due to the infirmities of age, but is able to be around the house part of the time.

Mrs. L. G. Snyder of the Flats was a recent visitor at the George C. Taylor home.

Sherman L. Shaw, Jr., visited his wife Saturday and Sunday at the home of her grandfather, Bailiff Frank Young in Dixon, where she has been staying on account of the weather conditions.

Mrs. Berthol Bruce who has been recovering from her recent illness at the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. A. H. Hill since her return from the Dixon hospital, returned to her home in Mundelein Sunday with her husband who came for her.

Mrs. Coy Beene was tendered a surprise party last Thursday night in honor of her birthday, the pleasant affair being planned and carried out by Mrs. Esther Kalstead. On account of the severe weather only about 10 guests were able to come but these enjoyed the evening playing 500. John Brasel and Mrs. James Starnes were high and Mr. Starnes, low and received the prizes. Delicious refreshments including a fine decorated birthday cake baked by Mrs. John Brasel were served. Mrs. Beene received many attractive gifts.

Justice W. H. Wellman who has been visiting his daughter Mrs. Earl Brayman at Rochelle returned home Wednesday.

John and Alta Grace Carlson of Dochele visited here and with their father, A. J. Carlson in Amboy Sunday.

Fred Meyer is ill with the flu.

Robert Brown of Rock Falls called here Tuesday morning of last week to take Miss Fischer to Dixon. He had been snow bound at the Frank Buchanan home on the Chicago road since the previous Saturday when he was caught in the big blizzard.

Announcement has been made of the wedding of Miss Pearl E. Gross of Princeton to John A. Carlson Saturday, April 11. Miss Gross, a graduate of the N. I. S. T. C. at DeKalb, has been teaching school in Rockford for several years. Her bridegroom is in Rockford had arranged a Valentine announcement party for her Saturday evening but the blizzard prevented the bride-elect from leaving Rochelle, where she was staying to attend the party planned in her honor.

Mr. and Mrs. Earl Koch, newlyweds, are living in the Brasel house on Second street. Mrs. Koch is the former Miss Alice Delhotal.

Miss Marjorie Conibear taught one day, Wednesday, last week in the Binghampton school. Most of the district schools are closed on account of the sub-zero weather and scarcity of fuel.

Mrs. Malinda Aschenbrenner has returned to the Clarence Martz home.

Harry Eaton and Alfred White, members of the school board, went to Moline last week when a new school bus was purchased and driven back to Lee Center.

Dorothy Bohn visited Katherine Dunseth last week.

Donald Frost of Amboy visited at the W. S. Frost home Saturday.

OHIO NEWS

Ohio—Mary Lou, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Oscar Petzer, was brought home Wednesday from the Perry Memorial hospital in Princeton and is recovering nicely from a recent operation for appendicitis.

The postponed meeting of the Good Housekeeping club was held Saturday afternoon at the home of Mrs. Marie Johnson. On account of the severe storm, Mrs. Nellie Doran and Mrs. Frances Piper who were to have assisted with the demonstrations were unable to be present. Mrs. Johnson demonstrated and served tuna fish salad to the six members who were present.

Mrs. Robert Ewalt and Miss Irene Brian were callers in Princeton on Saturday afternoon.

Several teachers from this locality attended the institute which was held in Princeton on Thursday and Friday of last week.

Friends in this place were grieved to learn of the death of Mrs. Kate Newlin who made her home with her daughter, Mrs. M. E. Wesner and family, who formerly resided here.

Mrs. F. J. Burke has spent the past two weeks in Chicago.

Mrs. Juanita Hey entertained the D. M. C. club last Tuesday afternoon at the home of her sister, Mrs. Darlene Sisler. First prize in bridge was won by Mrs. Nellie Foley, second by Mrs. Anna Walter and consolation by Mrs. Marie Johnson.

Teddy Nissen is staying with his aunt, Miss Margaret Pierson while his mother is ill in a hospital in Davenport, Ia.

Mrs. J. K. Worrell entertained the W. F. M. S. of the M. P. church at her home last Wednesday afternoon.

The joint meeting of the Ohio Woman's Club and the Parent-Teachers Assn. which was postponed on account of severe cold weather and impassable roads, will be held on Friday evening, Feb. 28 in the school auditorium.

Misses Luella and Nellie Byrne went to Arlington Wednesday to attend the funeral of their cousin, Mrs. Julia Fitzgerald Prendergast.

Mrs. I. M. Frye submitted to a major operation at the Deaconess hospital in Freeport Monday.

Jerry Poole is ill with scarlet fever.

Guy Gilbert and Roy Piper went to Sterling Sunday to visit relatives.

Joel Johnson who was injured several days ago when his car col-

A British invention is a motor-driven plow that works without human aid. It is operated by cables fastened to opposite sides of a field and wound on alternate drums.

The Greek navy is composed of two cruisers, 11 destroyers, 11 torpedo boats, four mine-layers, six submarines and other craft.

Monthly payments consume one-sixth of the income of the average citizen who buys a car on time.

Approximately 40 per cent of the 122,473 communities of the United States are dependent upon motor trucks for transportation.

OREGON'S 9-6 CAGE VICTORY IS AN ODDITY

Among The Unusual
Basketball News of 1935-36

By PAT HARMON

Champaign, Ill., Feb. 19.—(AP)—With the season almost over, let's look back at some of the oddities of high school basketball in Illinois for 1935-36.

For example, did you know that two married men are stars on their high school teams? One, Harold Musgrave of Fairfield, is the leading scorer of the North Egypt conference. The other, Bert Bell of Beardstown, is rated one of his team's most valuable players.

The lowest score of the year to date was recorded on Jan. 10 when Oregon beat Rock Falls, 9-6, and again on Jan. 24 when Olney bested Flora by the same tally.

Darville high school has not lost a major sports contest all year, being undefeated to date in both football.

Junior McHenry, Brocton forward, has scored more than 1100 points during his high school basketball career. He has averaged nearly 12 points a game for four years.

Many Unusual Names

For colorful names, southern Illinois teams can't be outdone. They shun common monikers like Tigers, Bulldogs, Maroons in favor of such nicknames as Arabs, Aces, Flyers, Vandals, Striped Devils, Canaries, and Black Sheep.

Coaches with new jobs have been unusually successful this season. Herman Walser at Joliet, S. O. Storbey at Maywood, Ralph Davidson at Johnston City, Earl Sturges at Downers Grove, all assumed their positions at the start of this school year.

But a veteran coach like Paul Beck at Oblong can be successful, too. In seven years Beck's teams have lost only 19 games in 153 starts. Yet Beck has never brought a team to the state tournament, an honor which has fallen nine times to Mark Peterman of Springfield, seven times to Dr. Salen Herke of Peoria Central, and five times to Lester Meyer of Champaign.

THE CAMPAIGN

Issues and Personalities of Presidential Campaign of 1936

(Editor's note: This is the third in a series of stories on the 1936 presidential campaign, its issues and personalities.)

By RICHARD HIPPELHEUSER

Associated Press Staff Writer
New York, Feb. 19.—(AP)—The administration in power in Washington has its candidate and broadly its platform—Franklin D. Roosevelt and the New Deal.

Alfred E. Smith, John W. Davis and other anti-New Deal Democrats would deny to the Roosevelt forces the right to use the party of Jackson and Cleveland as the political medium for continuing the New Deal in power.

But the New Dealers control the national machinery of the Democratic party and about everybody expects them to control the Philadelphia convention next June, despite the two-thirds rule.

Even the most ardent New Dealer, however, does not expect to get by in the convention without a fight. Smith, the "Happy Warrior" of 1928, has been chosen to head Tammany's delegation to the convention and thus has been assured an opportunity to demonstrate once again his disapproval of the Roosevelt administration's record.

Other Opposition

Former Governor Joseph B. Ely, of Massachusetts—aligned with Smith, Davis, John J. Raskob and other Democrats in the American Liberty League's activities against the New Deal—also expects to carry the fight into the convention. Opposition also is promised by Governor Eugene Talmadge of Georgia, provided he gains to the convention.

With such leaders as these lie the threat of a schism in the party. Their fight would be made first on the platform. Failing in this—well, it was Smith who said in his Liberty League address:

"We can take a walk."

Considering this, the Republicans are sorer than ever they were unable to maneuver the Democrats into holding their convention first. Then the Republican convention could have opened its doors with a warm welcome to those on "a walk"—although it would be rather difficult to imagine Smith and some others walking into a G. O. P. convention.

No Independent Ticket

Nor does anyone among Smith's close associates believe he would lead an independent Democratic ticket, which might divide the opposition to Roosevelt.

Instead, they predict that if and

As Goldy watched wee Coppy and brave Windy race, she waved her hand and shouted, "Keep on going, lads, you both are doing fine."

"You race just like two lean dogs would. Your imitation's pretty good. Friend Scouty's up ahead, where he has marked a finish line."

"I see it," Coppy panted. "Gee, it looks real far away to me, but I guess I can make it ere I'm simply all fagged out."

"This is the hardest task I've done. Perhaps you all will call it fun, but if you tried it out, yourselves, you'd change your minds, no doubt."

While he was talking, Windy passed. Poor Coppy simply was outclassed. Two minutes more and Windy won the race, by several feet.

The loser was a good sport. He exclaimed, "You are too good for me! The way you stepped right out in front was really pretty neat."

Freddy Miller's Featherweight Crown Is Secure

Seattle, Feb. 19.—(AP)—Freddy Miller's featherweight crown rested more jauntily on his brow today after he had soundly whipped Johnny Pena, San Francisco challenger, in 12 gory rounds and erased the sting of a recent decision Pena obtained over him.

The left handed champion from Cincinnati, Ohio, found Pena an easy mark last night for a biting left that opened a cut on his face early in the bout.

In the fourth round and again in the eighth, Referee Tommy McCarthy examined Pena's cut mouth and battered face and then consulted with the boxing commissioner about stopping the slaughter. The commissioners ordered the bout to proceed.

Miller took every round. He weighed 124 and Pena 123 1/2.

FORMER DIXON BOY AIDING IN NEW MOVEMENT

Dr. Edward J. Ryan is Assisting Department of Justice

The Chicago Herald and Examiner of Tuesday published a three column picture showing Dr. Edward J. Ryan, former Dixon boy who is now president of the Chicago Dental Society, and Dr. W. H. Drane Lester, of the Department of Justice looking over a photograph of teeth as Dr. Lester explains universal system of classifying teeth. An accompanying story in the Herald and Examiner said:

Criminals, to evade identification, will have to endure the tortures of toothache—or pull their own teeth—if a plan proposed yesterday to dentists from all over the world is put into effect.

Under this plan every dentist would make a careful chart of the teeth of every patient, and these charts, "as good as fingerprints," would be assembled and made accessible to all law enforcement agencies for purposes of identification. As a result, it was suggested, every criminal would be afraid to visit the office of a dentist—unless the dentist was a criminal, too.

The plan was suggested at the opening of the seventy-second annual national midwinter convention of the Chicago Dental Society at the Stevens Hotel, an event of much more than local significance, since these conventions are attended by dentists from the remotest places—London, Australia and Czechoslovakia already are represented.

It was W. H. Drane Lester, of the United States Department of Justice who told of the value of teeth as a means of investigation.

Lester and Dr. Edward J. Ryan conferred on the possible methods of classification.

As an example of how teeth could be used in the identification of criminals, Lester pointed to the case of the long sought Alvin Karpis, public enemy No. 1. The G-men already have charts of Karpis' teeth and have sent them to all dentists. It wouldn't be safe for Karpis to have a tooth filled now—unless the dentist were a friend of his.

The dentists showed a lively interest in the new "anti-pain solu-

INLAND PRESS ISSUES BLAST AT MINNESOTA

"Gangster" Government of Minneapolis and State Hit

Chicago, Feb. 19.—(AP)—The U. S. Supreme Court decision holding unconstitutional the Minnesota press "gag law," Col. Robert R. McCormick, publisher of the Chicago Tribune, said has "become the great charter of the American press."

Speaking at the annual meeting of the Inland Daily Press Association as chairman of the committee on freedom of the press, Col. McCormick recounted the killing of Howard Guilford in September, 1934, and the recent murder of Walter Liggett, both Minneapolis publishers, and concluded:

"From all these foregoing facts it is necessary to conclude that Guilford and Liggett were killed with acquiescence of the authorities of Minneapolis and Minnesota. We must believe that, unconstitutional law having failed to do so, murder was resorted to by the public authorities to coerce the freedom of the press."

"The authorities of Minnesota belong to gangland."

"The only possible rescue lies in publicity, and publicity in the state being under a reign of terror, the only hope lies in newspapers published beyond the protection furnished to murderers by the police, prosecutor and pardoning power in Minnesota."

RE-ELECT x DENNIS J. COLLINS

STATE REPRESENTATIVE FOR THE FOURTH TERM ON THE REPUBLICAN TICKET

35th District, Comprising DeKalb, Lee and Whiteside Counties

HE HAS PRACTICED LAW IN DE KALB FOR EIGHT (8) YEARS AND HAS MANAGED HIS MOTHER'S 400-ACRE FARM FOR 20 YEARS. . . . On the Primary Ballot, Tuesday, April 14th, above Candidates for Representative, it will read: "Vote for One or Two." By putting a cross in front of one candidate's name, that candidate will have three votes counted for him.

WHAT THEY SAY ABOUT HIM:

FARM ASSOCIATIONS.

"Return your friends to office . . . by actively supporting only candidates for re-election who are considerate of the welfare of agriculture, as shown by their voting record. Dennis J. Collins is one of the candidates for re-election who has proved himself worthy of your support."—Illinois Agriculture Association.

"Elect men who will represent you. This time we are publishing the names only of men who are entitled to re-election on their records." They name Dennis J. Collins as one of these men. "A candidate who has given a good account of himself as a legislator."—Prairie Farmer.

LABOR ORGANIZATIONS.

He was endorsed by union labor and this was published in the Labor News, laborers' own newspaper.

"Your mastery and convincing address delivered at our state-wide Victory Old Age Pension celebration last Sunday still echoes in the minds and hearts of our people. The heart strings of every person, both young and old, were touched and thrilled because they too realized the great part you have played in the liberation of the old folk from want as a co-sponsor in providing the Old Age Pension Law, the greatest legislation ever passed by a General Assembly."—M. D. Whelan, president State-wide Association for Pension for the Aged, Inc., and an outstanding labor leader.

INDUSTRIALISTS.

"The writer and his associates take this opportunity of extending to you their sincere appreciation of your attitude and vote during the 59th Illinois General Assembly on bills which we are convinced would have worked serious injury to employers and employees."—An industrialist.

STOREKEEPERS.

"During the last legislative session just adjourned, and particularly on every legislative day during the month of June, we have had opportunity to observe Mr. Dennis Collins and to carefully measure his legislative ability. We have reached the conclusion that Representative Collins is a clear thinker, an able and intelligent speaker, and a desirable member to be returned for duty at the next election. We have also observed that his counsel is frequently sought and he is evidently much respected and loved by those who know him. We sincerely hope that when the time comes you will lend your valuable support to the candidacy of Mr. Collins."—A trade association.

"The Tri-County Drugists Association of Northern Illinois endorse your support of the Fair Trade Bill No. 158. We feel this will assist in the preservation of small business and also protect the interests of the general public."—Retailer association.

BANKERS.

H. C. Housman of the Illinois Bankers' Association writes: "It has been a pleasure and a privilege to have known you, and I sincerely hope your constituents will reward you with any office to which you might aspire. Don't hesitate to refer any of the bankers in your district to me."

LEAGUE OF WOMEN VOTERS.

Mrs. Savilla Simons, legislative secretary of the Illinois League of Women Voters, says: "I appreciate very much the careful consideration which you gave the measure in which the League of Women Voters was interested."

NATIONAL PUBLICATION.

"One of the most active legislators in Illinois is Dennis J. Collins, state representative of the 35th Senatorial District. Mr. Collins has an impressive record to his credit. He has served three terms and is running for a fourth term and we feel confident that he will be re-nominated and re-elected by a large plurality."

HOME RULE FOR SUPERVISORS AND COUNTY OFFICERS.

A letter from Legislative Committee chairman:

Dear Representative Collins: In behalf of the legislative committee of the Supervisors and County Office Association of Illinois, I wish to extend to you our thanks and appreciation for your efforts in the cause of "Home Rule" and the retaining of local control government by local officials, elected by local voters, which was about to be snatched away by House Bill No. 32 in the first Special Session of the 59th General Assembly. Your firm and courageous action as a minority member of the conference committee appointed to act on House Bill No. 32 resulted in a great victory for "Home Rule" and local elective officials. Signed: Robert D. Bradlee.

HIS RECORD IS CLEAN

He sponsored a bill to reduce the rate of interest on farm loans which unanimously passed the House. A copy of said bill was sent to each of the congressmen, United States senators from Illinois and to the president of the United States, and was adopted and passed by Congress, signed by the president, and is now a law of the United States. Sponsored the most progressive and humane Old Age Pension Law passed in the United States. The law was endorsed by leading newspapers, fraternal, civic, religious and social welfare organizations throughout the state and nation. The law passed the House and Senate unanimously by the largest vote ever known in history in June, A. D. 1935. The said law provided that every person 65 years of age or older could have as much as $200.00 a year income, $5,000.00 worth of property and still receive one dollar a day pension or a total of $60.00 a month for a man and his wife. This law has been amended and many objectionable provisions put in it contrary to his wishes that were not in the law when he first sponsored it last June. If given the honor to serve the district at the next session, he will sponsor a bill putting back the beneficial provisions that were in the law when passed in June, A. D. 1935.

Has voted and believes in an income tax to make Chicago's wealth and big personal property tax dodgers pay their honest, fair and just taxes. This is not an additional tax but means lower taxes for the farmer, personal property and home owner.

Believes that every tax dollar paid by the taxpayer should be guarded, protected and spent in a business-like, economical and efficient way.

The taxpayer's dollar should bring more efficient and honest public service, such as roads, schools, and all other governmental agencies.

Assisted in passage of bill providing additional money for libraries of the 35th District.

Voted for a law providing money for relief out of general treasury.

Worked and voted for all legislation in interests of veterans.

Supported bill calling on Congress to pay the bonus to put money into circulation and give genuine relief and employment.

Worked for drivers' license law and helped remove many objectionable provisions including fee application fee.

Voted for a bill providing that mothers' pensions and blind pensions be partially supported by the federal government.

Voted and worked for all laws in the interest of child welfare.

Voted for fair trade and practice act to help small business men.

Vigorously opposed elimination of school treasurers, road commissioners and all other township officers to maintain community government and local responsibility.

Favored strict, honest enforcement of civil service laws to secure more economical and efficient service to the taxpayers.

Believes every able bodied person should be given an opportunity to work. Wage earners are entitled to receive a just and fair proportion of the earnings of industry.

Supported reduction of auto license fees and opposed increase of gasoline tax on already over-taxed automobile owners.

PERSONAL DATA

Dennis J. Collins, born on a farm, attended the country school, the DeKalb public school and the DeKalb township high school, and worked on the farm helping his folks. His father died when he was 14 years of age and he continued to help his mother operate 400 acres of land in DeKalb County and has helped to pay the taxes on their farm to the township, county, state and federal government for the last 25 years, which amount to approximately $20,000.00.

He worked and earned a portion of the cost of his education while he attended the Northern Illinois State Teachers College, University of Illinois and Northwestern University Law School. He has successfully practiced law for eight years in the City of DeKalb. He has appeared before the Illinois State Supreme Court in several cases and was granted a decision in favor of his clients upholding his legal judgment and understanding of the law.

Recommended by farm papers and farm organizations in the State of Illinois and the United States for his energetic work in behalf of farm legislation. Last year for the welfare of the people of the State of Illinois and good gov-

I sincerely hope your constituents will keep you in the legislature."

"I am writing this note to congratulate you upon the very fine record you have made as a member of the legislature. I hear nothing but the finest comments on your activities at Springfield. I am especially appreciative of the way you have stood by the interests of education and particularly those of the Teachers Colleges."—An educator.

"I wish to express to you my appreciation for your excellent attitude towards school legislation during the last session of the assembly. I have at hand a statement regarding the voting of all members of the legislature on important school bills, and I find no record superior to yours."—A superintendent of schools.

"I surely appreciate the effort you made yesterday in having our bill pushed through that complimentary roll call that was given to the money for old age pension. I want to reiterate what I said to you when we talked about this matter in Springfield, and to say to you that my judgment of your voting on school legislation is that you have in every case done everything possible to advance the cause of public education, and you can be sure that I will make this matter known to the members of my staff."—An educator.

Controversy Over Legend of Washington's Throwing Dollar Across River Rages

Johnson, a Former Pitcher, Will Attempt Feat

COUNT THE DOTS AND GET CHANCE AT $25 IN CASH

Washington, Feb. 19.—(AP)—The issue of constitutionality reared its head today in a roaring controversy involving George Washington, Representative Sol Bloom, Walter Johnson and one silver dollar.

It was raised by Barney Thames, a powerful dollar-tosser of Wellington, Kas., and evidently a strong believer in the story that George Washington once threw a silver "cartwheel" across the Rappahannock river at Fredericksburg, Va.

Pooh-Hoohed Legend.
Hearing that Representative Bloom of New York, a student of history, had pooh-hoohed the legend and offered to bet 20 to 1 that Walter Johnson, famous pitcher, can't make such a toss either, Thames telegraphed:

"If Supreme Court ever reviews Bloom it will declare him unconstitutional from his collar button up. On the afternoon of the second Sunday in November, 1917, I myself threw a silver dollar across Rappahannock at Fredericksburg. I was then a United States Marine."

This was only one of many messages, insulting and otherwise, that descended on Bloom—while Johnson continued training for his attempt to duplicate the feat as part of Fredericksburg's celebration of Washington's 204th birthday anniversary Saturday.

Stands to Lose Heavily.
On paper Bloom stands to lose more than 100,000 if Johnson makes the toss. Among those who rushed to take his bet was Ben Fitts, president of the Fredericksburg Chamber of Commerce, who put up $5,000.

But it appeared the betting never would emerge from the conversational realm. Bloom insists the Rappahannock was so wide in Washington's day that the Father of His Country would have to throw the dollar 1,500 feet, which is obviously impossible. He says Johnson must throw it that far or the bet's off.

Six Awards to Be Given Telegraph Readers in Contest

Seeking to stimulate circulation activity and to provide an interesting and profitable pastime for subscribers, The Dixon Evening Telegraph this week announces a unique drive in which we offer six awards, the first of which is $25 in cash.

This is not a circulation campaign in which we employ men and women to make a concentrated canvass of the territory, but a friendly little event in which everyone, young or old, may take part.

Just Count the Dots.
All you have to do to participate for the awards is to count the dots shown in the square in the big announcement on page 5. Second Section of this issue, and bring in your sum of these dots, together with a year's subscription or renewal to The Dixon Evening Telegraph, and you are duly entered in the competition.

This is not a game of luck or chance, but a test of accuracy and skill. The drive opens at 12 o'clock Saturday, Feb. 29, and will close at 5 P. M., Saturday, March 21, 1936. No entries will be accepted prior to Saturday noon, giving those who do not live in Dixon the same opportunity as those living close by.

Promptness Helps.
The first correct answer, or nearest correct answer, will receive first list of six awards.

The complete list of awards is as follows: first, $25 cash; second, $10 cash; third, $5 cash; fourth, $4 cash; fifth, $4 cash; sixth, $4 cash. Entries may be mailed or brought to The Dixon Telegraph office (after the contest officially opens) or may be given to an authorized circulation representative of the Dixon Telegraph. Of course Telegraph employees and their families are not eligible to participate. Judges will be announced later.

Spears Obtains Job at Toledo U.

Toledo, O., Feb. 19.—(AP)—Dr. Clarence W. Spears, dismissed Saturday as football coach at the University of Wisconsin, was named athletic director and head football coach at the University of Toledo Tuesday.

The University board of trustees appointed him professor of physical education at a salary of $3,100 and football coach at a salary of $1,000.

ROOKIE MUST OCCUPY FOXX' FORMER POST

Tigers Signed Up 14 Rookies For Coming Year

Chicago, Feb. 19.—(AP)—A fellow with the emphatic name of Jim Darn Oglesby from Polk county, Mo., faces just about the toughest job of all the 91 rookies who start showing off in American League training camps this month.

Jim Darn—his full name and birthplace are supplied in the handy compendium prepared annual by Henry P. Edwards, manager of the American League service bureau—is expected to become the Philadelphia Athletics' new first baseman. In other words, he will attempt to fill the huge vacancy created when Connie Mack sold Jimmy Foxx to the Boston Red Sox.

Oglesby, who qualified for a chance at the job by batting .349 and driving in 130 runs for Los Angeles last season, is just one member of the biggest rookie squad in the league. The 72-year-old Mack will look over 21 recruits of various shades of green in his attempt to replace Foxx, Johnny Marcum, Roger Cramer, Eric Meyer and others join in his latest big action.

Tigers Have New Talent.

Second in quantity of fresh talent to be examined are the world champion Detroit Tigers. Manager Mickey Cochrane will have 14 rookies in camp. The Chicago White Sox rank third with 11. The New York Yankees and Washington have 10 more or less newcomers listed. Boston and St. Louis have nine each and Cleveland is low with seven.

The tallest rookie listed is Monte Stratton, Chicago right handed pitcher who stands 6 feet, 5 inches. The White Sox expect Stratton to be as valuable as he is big on the strength of his record of 17 victories and nine defeats at St. Paul last season. The Sox have another rookie pitcher with an impressive record, Russell E. Evans who won 24 and lost eight with Oklahoma City.

Connie Mack, who signed Foxx before the home run slugger attained his majority, again comes up with the youngest recruit. The boy is Stanley Lester Bolton, 17 year old outfielder who was picked up as a free agent.

OUT OF TEN YEARS OF SENSATIONAL SUCCESSES COMES THIS NEW FINER

1935 1934 1933 1932 1931

1936 NORGE

ROLLATOR REFRIGERATION

Only Norgé with its rich background of experience, and its tireless search for perfection could have built the new 1936 Rollator Refrigerator—the greatest Norgé of all time.

NEW BEAUTY—Norgé leadership in design is evidenced by a widespread trend toward Norgé styling throughout the industry. Always the smartest looking refrigerator, Norgé again expresses beauty that breathes the spirit of tomorrow.

NORGE CONVENIENCE—The Norgé has no trick gadgets to catch your fancy—things more to be talked about than used. You will find the Norgé highly practical, because over 100,000 housewives were consulted on its interior arrangement. The result is amazing convenience, flexibility that increases storage capacity.

ECONOMY—The Norgé is economical because its Rollator Compressor makes more cold with less current. And it gives greater economy for more years because of its mechanism—practically service free—almost everlasting. The Norgé also provides economies because of its perfect protection of foods, and its capacity to store large quantities of bargain purchases.

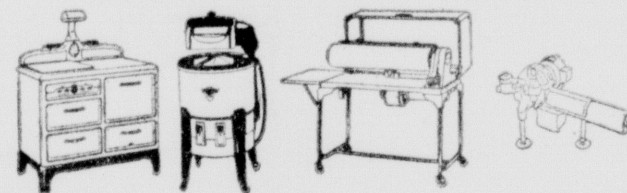

SANITATION AND HEALTH—Proper refrigeration is insurance against health hazards caused by bacteria, mold and yeast formation. The gleaming white all porcelain interior of the Norgé has no crevices where dirt can hide. All edges are rolled, easy to clean and keep clean.

MATCHED UNIT KITCHENS—The Norgé Rollator Refrigerator and Norgé Concentrator Gas Range are identical in style motif. They may be had in all white or matched color ensembles—and both on one easy-payment contract.

See the 1936 Norgé before you buy any refrigerator or gas range

NORGE DIVISION Borg-Warner Corp., Detroit, Mich.

PROVED, APPROVED and IMPROVED

THE ROLLATOR COMPRESSOR... Smooth, easy, rolling power instead of the hurried back-and-forth action of the ordinary refrigerating mechanism. Result—more cold for the current used and a mechanism that is almost everlasting.

WIDOW OF SLAIN EDITOR TO SEEK WORK ELSEWHERE

Mrs. Liggett Makes An- nouncement After Ac- quittal of Cann

Minneapolis, Feb. 19.—(AP)—Giving herself "about a month to live," should she carry on with her slain husband's crusading weekly paper, Mrs. Edith Liggett disclosed today
she is leaving Minnesota.

Fear for her children's future rather than her own personal safety Mrs. Liggett, widowed mother of two, said was the reason for her projected departure east to "get a job as soon as possible."

Only last night a district court jury acquitted Isadore (Kid Cann) Blumenfeld, liquor salesman, former bootlegger, and target of Walter Liggett attacks, of the publisher's slaying.

"If I stayed in Minneapolis, I'd go on with Walter's paper and I'd have about a month to live," Mrs.
Liggett said. "If I went on with his paper, I'd be killed."

Reached Quick Verdict
The jurors in Cann's case were out three and one-half hours, but deliberated only 90 minutes before taking time out for dinner.

Informed of the verdict, Gov. Olson said every available state agency would be used in an effort to locate the slayers of the publisher, who was killed the night of last
Dec. 9, as he stepped from an automobile at the rear of his apartment.

Responsibility for pursuit of the investigation was delegated to state attorney general's office by County Attorney Ed J. Goff.

Gov. Olson, who frequently was the target of editorial attacks by Liggett before his death and by Mrs. Liggett before and during the trial, declared the state "has not rested."

Joy Unsuppressed Blumenfeld's joy at hearing the verdict was too great to be suppressed. When District Judge Arthur W. Selover had read only to the words "not guilty," Cann started to rise from his chair. He was pulled back by his counsel, Thomas W. McMeekin. Both Cann and Mc-Meekin wept as the judge completed reading the verdict.

Mrs. Edith Liggett, the widow, said she was not surprised at the verdict, "in view of the clever bar-bership alibi." She criticized the police department, asserting that "no attempt has been made by police to discover who drove the car (of the slayer) who provided the machine gun, if there was any mistake in identification, or to produce the killer."

Claim Supported Blumenfeld's defense was based on the alibi he was in a loop barbershop at 5:41 P. M., Dec. 9, established as the time of the slaying.
His claim was supported by testimony of four barbershop employes.

The Hennepin county grand jury today was planning to undertake an investigation of the alleged attempt to "fix" the case. County Attorney Goff said Harry Bloom, brother of the acquitted Blumenfeld, was being sought to appear before the body, as a "necessary witness" in the "fixing" investigation.

PAW PAW NEWS

By MRS. JOHN ULLREY
PAW PAW—Art Harper who has maintained a good record for getting through with the mail was finally held for downs on Saturday. No mail was received from Saturday evening until Tuesday at 2 o'clock.

Beier's bakery truck which has been marooned at the R. L. Tarr farm home from Saturday until Monday, arrived here Monday afternoon at 2:30 having spent the time since 8:30 in negotiating that distance.

Irvy Moorehead walked in from a little south of Rochelle where he has been since Saturday and reported no cars had been through on highway No. 51 since Saturday. He also said that pretty nearly every farm house had some traveler in it and that cases of frozen hands and feet were common. Drifts in some places were 15 feet in height.

Mrs. Neva Bresse entertained the isters club at her home Tuesday night. Auction bridge was played, favors for high and low score going to Wynette Worsley and Mrs. T. Tesson. Guests for the evening were Mrs. Tesson, Julia Haul, and Dorothy Prentice. A dainty lunch was served.

The state bank of Paw Paw remained open for the usual banking hours on Lincoln's birthday to accommodate those of their patrons who were unable to get to town on account of the blocked roads.

Robert F. Fightmaster is employed at the Alexander Lumber Co., yards. They are parcelling out their supply of coal in half ton lots. At the Rosenkrans elevator the supply of coal is exhausted and the Farmers elevator is selling coke only.

Friends have heard from Aunt Gertrude Smith, who left here in good spirits and was able to navigate the icy walks of Algona, Iowa, with the aid of crutches. Her friends hope she will be back to her home in Paw Paw soon.

Seven courageous souls attended the Baptist Sunday school last Sunday. They were Archie Merriam, Mabel Carnahan, Everett Linden, Rev. and Mrs. Vouga, Alfred Burnett and Charles Gibbs.

Clifford Walter Barringer and Harry Pierce were in town Friday afternoon. They said, "you haven't got much snow in town." Well, boys we've got enough even if you can brag of higher snow drifts.

The Archie Bolch family have moved from their home north of Paw Paw to a place northeast of Rochelle.

Supervisor Henry Knetsch has had a force of about 35 local men shoveling roads in all directions from town.

The baby at Oswald Otfedahl's has been named Barbara Lloyd.

The Collins barn has been giving shelter to some of the neighbors' teams when they become stalled on the road.

Three of the members of the James Bend family are reported sick and heroic efforts are being made to get food and fuel to them.

Mr. and Mrs. Guy Schoenholz and Mrs. Ethel Hawbaker attended the funeral of Keith Houghtby at Shabbona last Monday.

Mrs. Minnie Browning entertained two tables of contract bridge Wednesday evening.

Doris Meade is a little better. She has been having a siege of bronchial pneumonia and it was a good thing she got better as the snow drifted and the doctor was unable to reach the home.

Mr. and Mrs. Everett Powers were here over the week end.

Gene Henry is recovering from the chicken pox.

One of the most important events of the season was a Valentine party held Saturday afternoon at the home of Mrs. Dwight Browning for her little daughter, Peggy Lou. The guests arrived at 2:30 and games were played. An amateur was held and last but not least a delicious lunch was served on beautifully decorated card tables which consisted of cookies, fruit salad, sandwiches, cocoa and candy hearts. Some of the guests were unable to go on account of sickness and cold.

CURIOSITY SEEKERS

We do not condemn those who are curious about the funeral profession, its policies and practices. On the contrary, we welcome interested visitors to our funeral home. Passers-by should feel free to drop in for a friendly chat any time of the day. Some member of our staff will always be glad to talk about our service and facilities.

weather but the following enjoyed the event: Carl Coss, Violet Sophronch, Dorothy Jean Ulrey, Jerry Knetsch, Mervyn Reynolds, Corrine Harris and Margaret Douglas.

Doris Cook, Paw Paw's popular young lady who is spending the winter in Florida writes of her interesting experiences. "Needless to say I enjoy everything here so much. I have been taking many interesting trips and even the trips into Clearwater are fine, for the avenue is right on Clearwater bay. Fishing hasn't been so very good this winter as it has been too cool. One nice thing about fishing here is that we can get both salt and fresh water fish. Last week we had about two real cool nights and the fish were so chilled when the tide went out it was easy to pick them up. That is not fun, though. I've been to Tarpon Springs, to the Sponge Exchange several times and still enjoy seeing the boats, deep sea shells and sponges. All the sponge boats are sail boats and go out into the gulf for three months at a time. Spongers are planted and others are taken up. After the divers bring them up they are strung on heavy cord and hung over beams to dry. In size, they vary, according to the kind of sponge they are. Some are as large as dish pans and others are the ordinary size we buy. The sponges are stored in cells in a large U-shaped building until Buyer's day. All the curio shops are filled with deep sea shells, sea weed and all kinds of curiosities. A trip out in a glass bottomed boat was worth mentioning. One could look 146 feet through the water to the interesting plant and animal life below. The fish swim calmly about as if they knew they were safe from hook and line. Huge clumps of red water cress grow beside long slim leaves of green seaweed and around all this flutters bits of sea weed that looks like chiffon. It made one almost wish he were a fish. Our garden is fine although the cool weather has retarded the growth of some things. The tomato vines were frosted but the carrots, onions, cabbage, cauliflower, turnips, etc., are good. Strawberries aren't doing so well just now. Maybe it isn't a thrill to go out and get an orange or tangerine any time the appetite calls for it. One nice thing, all Floridians make the most of their fruit and make many various appetizing dishes. The Florida State Fair at Tampa is in progress now and surely is fine. The exhibits are marvelous and the nearest like the world's fair of any I've seen. Next Monday the annual Gasparilla day is observed. The morning paper stated that the best parade in ten years would be shown. Ringling Brothers circus sends a good many acts from their winter quarters at Sarasota. The program will be broadcast over the Farm and Home Hour on WLS Monday. Any one coming to Florida should not miss seeing the "Singing Tower" erected by Edward Bok. It is built on a high ridge surrounded by beautiful lakes and wonderful orange groves. The tower is built of Georgia pink marble and has a great deal of carving on top. Each figure is different. A moat with lovely gold fish is about the bottom and Bok's grave is 12 feet from the tower. The great north door is of bronze and depicts six days of creation recorded in Genesis. The sanctuary is a place that mere words cannot describe. All the trees are filled with singing birds and flowers bloom in profusion everywhere. Winding paths are all green and run unexpectedly on pretty little lakes. There are seats about in pleasant nooks and fountains here and there. Each day a recital is given on the bells, lasting for 45 minutes. David Blesse, the carillonier, is one of the most noted in the world. The bells sound much better at a distance from the tower. Familiar songs, such as America, Sweet Hour of Prayer, and Aloha Hoe, were on the program the day I was there. The largest bell weighs 25,000 pounds and the smallest 11. One feels very near heaven in such a spot and a little poem I found on a stone tablet in the garden impresses the fact upon one.

The smile of the sun for pardon, The song of the birds for mirth, One is nearer God's heart in a garden.

Than anywhere else on earth. The tower is located at Lake Wales exactly in the center of the state. We can always tell when the weather up north gets colder for the mercury drops here. Tuesday afternoon my cousin and I went to town in our summer dresses and the thermometer stood at 76 degrees.

The following storm-orphaned people were guests in Paw Paw most of last week: Mary Davison at the home of Harry Case; Hazel Willard at Mrs. Effie Cornell's; Julia Hang at H. G. Worsley's; Marjorie Simpson at Mrs. Blanche Roberts and Dickie Mead at the Ira Douglass home.

High School Notes
The following is a continuation of last week's article on music by Marylouise Locke:

"Third on the list came Franz Joseph Haydn, known as 'Papa Haydn.' He composed, 'The Seasons,' 'The Creation,' and 'The Emperor's Song.' The last he played three times during his final illness with solemnity after having asked the servants to carry him to the piano.

Wolfgang Amadeus Mozart, was 'super-man and super musician.' He and his sister Nannerl made a pretty picture as they played together. He composed the famous Requiem. When he died his body was taken to St. Stephens and the service was held out of doors, the body being then taken to a common grave. The day was so stormy that the followers turned back and no one was at the cemetery to receive the body except the attendants. Constance, his wife, and the children were left with nothing but debts and manuscripts. Thus was sacrificed to the niggardliness of little fools, a man worth more than whole centuries filled with emperors, counts and dukes.

Ludwig Von Beethoven is known as 'the colossus of music.' He dedicated the symphony, 'Eroica' to Napoleon, but tore it up when the soldier became king. After his mother's death, he said, 'now happy I was when I could say 'mother' and she heard; but now I can only say it to her silent image.' At 31 he became deaf, and all of his symphonies, except one, were composed thereafter. Among his well known compositions are, 'The Moonlight Sonata' and 'Pathetique.'

Paw Paw found its stride offensively for the first time Friday evening. However, as usual, the defense looked ragged, though such sharpshooters as J. Douglass, Zuber and Benson can make any defense look poor when they are in form.

"Educating Sister Jessie"
After Jessie had been at the Boarding school for a few weeks, she began signing her letters home, 'Jessica.' Brother Tom thought he would give her a little dig about it, so he wrote:

"Dear Jessica: Dadica and Momica have gone to visit Aunt Dizzica. Uncle Samica is talking of buying a new machineica, but he doesn't know whether to get a Fordica or Chevica. The old covica has a new calfica. I was going to call it Nellica, but I changed it to Jimica, because it was a bullica. Your affectionate brother, Tomica."

The Junior Woman's club met on Monday evening at the Hulda Roesler residence. Those present were: Hazel Willard, Julia Hang, Regina Worsley, Ona Larson, Jean French, Maxine Ambler, Mary Davison, Ruth Politsch. A book report was given by Jean French on, 'Old

Jules," by Mar Sandos. A letter from Doris Cook, a member, who is wintering in Florida was read by Maxine Ambler, which among other things contained a very interesting description of Bok's Singing Tower. After the business session, refreshments were served.

Mrs. Ivan Urish baked twin birthday cakes Saturday, one for her little son Allen, LeRoy who was two years old Saturday and Donald Mortimer who is two Monday.

About 50 men who could handle a shovel, Saturday and Monday opened the road north of Paw Paw. In the wildest game of the season Paw Paw squeezed out a 43 to 41 victory over a stubborn Rollo quintet. From the beginning the game was a red hot affair. Rollo pulled into a 15 to 7 lead and then the purple and gold began to function and went into the lead. The lead saw-sawed back and forth with neither team showing superiority. Then the locals pulled into a 36 to 20 lead Harlan Douglass added a free throw and the game appeared to be on ice with only five minutes left to go. But the flashy Rollo outfit again started hitting and tied the score. Then in a minute of wild spectacular basketball, Coss and Ulrey scored from the field and Zuber sank a beauty from the side. On the next tip-off, the locals gained possession of the ball and held it to the remaining few seconds of the game.

Mrs. and Mrs. Edgar Crawford were Dixon callers Saturday evening.

Mrs. Ira Currens, Mary Sutton, Ruth Currens and Claude Currens were Dixon callers Friday morning.

BISON VARIETY FLAX RESISTS WILT DISEASE

Experiments Made at North Dakota Plot in Year 1900

Ordinary flax varieties planted in "Plot 30" at the North Dakota Experiment Station cannot live. Yet flax grows in this plot and produces heavy yields. That flax is highly resistant to wilt disease.

In 1900, H. L. Bolley of the North Dakota Experiment Station, determined flax wilt was caused by a parasitic fungus. Most of the flax planted at that time in the wilt-infested soil of Plot 30 died early, but a few plants survived. These survivors, Mr. Bolley knew, had something in their fight disease. He used them as parent stock in developing wilt-resistant varieties, and was probably the first man in the history of agriculture to subject plants to a disease in order to get resistant selections. Today this plan is basic for crop improvement work.

Outlook Changed

Mr. Bolley's achievement changed the outlook for flax production in the United States. Older varieties susceptible to wilt, could survive only on new land. It was impossible, therefore, to grow flax continuously on the same land, even to grow it at intervals with several years between.

The wilt-resistant Bison variety developed on Plot 30 by Mr. Bolley and his assistant O. E. Heggeness is the principal commercial variety in the United States. Last year flax growers raised more than 10,000,000 bushels of this variety highly resistant to wilt. Several other satisfactory varieties have been developed in this country.

Oil Taken From Seed

Oil is extracted from the seed of most flax grown in this country and is used in making paints, linoleum, patent leather, and other products. The residue from the pressed seed, linseed cake, is ground into meal and fed to livestock. Flax breeders of the state experiment stations and the United States Department of Agriculture are now trying to improve the yield and drying quality of the oil. The oil content of different lots of seed may vary from 33 to 42 per cent. A difference of 4 per cent between two lots of seed means a difference of 224 pounds of oil per bushel of seed, or 3,360 pounds of oil in a carload of 1,500 bushels.

Delay in Payment of Old Age Pension is Sure Says Director

Springfield, Ill., Feb. 19.—(AP)—With public welfare commissions appointed in virtually all Illinois counties, officials today were forwarding data to Washington to obtain approval of the state's old age pension set-up.

James H. Andrews, superintendent of social assistance, said there will be a delay in starting pension payments until it is known whether Illinois will receive federal aid. The maximum monthly assistance will be $30, he said, if a federal grant is assured and $15 if the state must bear the entire cost.

STORIES IN STAMPS

By I. S. Klein

MANY years ago, when mountains lived and there were men and women mountains, according to Maori legend, Taranaki, which is now Mount Egmont, stood far inland between Mount Tongariro and Lake Taupo, and close by stood the beautiful woman mountain, Pihanga.

Tongariro loved Pihanga, but one day, while Tongariro was away, Taranaki paid court to Pihanga. On his return, Tongariro attacked Taranaki for trying to steal his love, and Taranaki fled to the sea, where he now stands.

In his flight, he tore a long channel, that is now the Tangaui river, and he left a great hole where he once stood. That is now Lake Rotomahana. Warm springs in this extinct volcano, that rises to a height of 2,550 feet, are all that is left of the fiery love that once warmed Taranaki's breast.

Today, this mighty Don Juan is pictured on the three-shilling value of New Zealand's latest pictorial issue.

New Faces in Grownup 'Gang'

Some of the faces in that scrappy, mischievous group of youngsters who made up "Our Gang" years ago could hardly be recognized today, but who could mistake the chubby-checked young man at the right for any other than roly-poly Joe Cobb? He's back again, reunited with two other "gangsters," Mary Kornman, at left, and Johnny Downs, center. And just to show their love remains for childish fun, they pose here with that new child star, Billy Lee.

MANY CLAIMS SPOIL RACKET CURE-ALL MEN

Sweeping Claims Put Them Under Food- Drug Act

Although not nearly so common as they used to be, there are still occasional quack medicine vendors who stick to the old and illegal labels that claim for their nostrums curative powers over at least a good part of the ills and ailments that affect mankind.

Recently, for example, drug inspectors picked up samples of what were labeled "Devonshire's Earth Salts," marketed by F. S. Powers & Co., Crystal Lake, Ill. These were offered as a treatment for the following assortment of diseases and conditions: Pneumonia, cancer, diphtheria, typhoid fever, kidney and bowel trouble, appendicitis, intestinal worms and tape worms, locomotor ataxia, nervous disease, rheumatism, stomach trouble, skin diseases, malaria, high blood pressure, boils, abscesses, goitre, tumors, stomach ulcers, chills, colds, bronchitis, snake bites, diphtheria, tremors, diabetes, venereal diseases, heart trouble, sterility in man and women, and also for "other disease conditions."

The nostrum got into interstate commerce and that brought it under the Federal Food and Drugs Act which penalizes sweeping claims not founded on fact and contrary to medical experience. A Federal court fined the seller.

Bar Newspapermen from Munich Trial

Munich, Ger., Feb. 19.—(AP)—The public and foreign newspaper correspondents were excluded today when the trial of Charles Nisselbeck, naturalized United States citizen, for "attempting high treason" was resumed.

Hugh F. Ramsey, United States vice consul, however, was permitted to remain in the courtroom. Nisselbeck is alleged to have brought to Germany from the United States writings by Otto Strasser, the ex-

Chemists Explain At Fire Prevention Meeting

Dust explosions which occur in grain elevators and other industrial plants can be easily demonstrated.

Chemical engineers of the United States Department of Agriculture often produce miniature dust explosions at training schools for firemen and at fire-prevention meetings. They take a small handful of corn starch and sift it through a fine cheesecloth onto a lighted match. A vivid, fast burning flame appears as if by magic. It is such a flame in an industrial plant—starting perhaps from an electric spark or the striking of a match—which ignites other inflammable dust and causes a disastrous explosion.

Flame Travels Rapidly

Once the dust starts burning the flame travels rapidly, building up pressure which causes the actual explosion. Inflammable dusts will not explode unless they are fine, dry, and suspended in the air.

Investigations by the Bureau of Chemistry and Soils indicate that two reports are usually heard in connection with large dust explosions. The first report is sharp and snick—the second, loud and rumbling. A small quantity of suspended dust catching on fire apparently causes the first. Then other dust is disturbed and another explosion, much larger than the first.

and accompanied by more flame spreads through the dust zone.

Export-Import Bank Undergoes Reorganization

Washington, Feb. 19.—(AP)—Reorganization of the Export-Import Bank with Warren Lee Pierson as president, succeeding Geo. N. Peek who recently resigned that office, has been announced at the state department.

Pierson has been general counsel of the bank since its organization. Peek resigned after a succession of disputes with high administration officials, notably Secretary Hull, over President Roosevelt's reciprocal trade program.

Charles E. Stuart was re-elected vice-president and James B. Alley, general counsel to the Reconstruction Corporation, was elected a vice-president to succeed Wayne C.

Taylor, who recently was named assistant secretary of the treasury.

Two of Bandit Trio 'Arrested in Capital'

Springfield, Ill., Feb. 19.—(AP)—

The police are holding two men charged as members of the trio which toured the city Saturday and Sunday nights in a series of abduction robberies.

In custody were Roy Lane, 25, and Albert Johnson, 26, both of Springfield. Lane was trapped last night in a padlocked house by officers armed with sub-machine guns. Johnson was taken at his home.

Lane had a bullet wound in his hip from a gasoline filling station holdup attempt yesterday at Mulberry Grove, Bond county, and the third member of the trio, who still was at large, also was reported wounded.

The Quicker You Buy A New Car the Better

Figure it any way you want to, you are losing money, opportunity and pleasure every day you are without a 1936 automobile. The theoretical value of any car bought next June is no greater than that of the car bought in February. You lose months of use by waiting and you pay as much when you buy then as you pay now.

The car bought today is "broken-in" by spring. You and your car are well acquainted. You go into the "open road" season with your transportation facilities at the peak of perfection.

Let us show you the new CHEVROLET, CADILLAC and LA SALLE models. And explain to you how conveniently and easily you can begin driving a NEW CAR NOW.

ECONOMISTS TO WRITE SERIES FOR TELEGRAPH

Daily Articles by Six
Well Known Experts
Will Be Given

The Telegraph has just arranged for the addition to its staff of six nationally famous economic writers who will write daily articles under the heading of "You and Your Nation's Affairs." We will present an article by a different author each day. The articles will deal with timely, economic and political questions of National significance.

These articles, as the title of the feature suggests, will not be abstract professional essays. They will give our readers an interesting and instructive picture of the place they occupy in the immensely complex and difficult problems with which Government officials, legislators and business men all over the world are wrestling.

Dr. Spahr has for several years been a popular speaker on the radio. He is also a writer of many books and articles on money and banking. He is chairman of the Department of Economics, Accounts and Finance of New York University. Among his books are "Clearing and Collection of Checks," "Methods and Status of Scientific Research," "The Federal Reserve System and the Control of Credit" and "Economic Principles and Problems." Dr. Spahr is also Secretary of the Economists' National Committee on Monetary Policy.

Dr. Carothers was formerly an economic expert of the Department of State in Washington. He was a Rhodes scholar and is a member of the Pennsylvania Rhodes Scholarship Selection Committee and of the American Economic Association. He also has been for many years a popular radio speaker and a regular contributor to "This Week," a syndicated magazine published by the New York Herald Tribune.

Dr. Carver Well Known
Dr. Carver is known among economists the world over not only for his deep insight into economic subjects but also as a phrase maker whose power to interest the lay public has attracted to his writings an ever widening circle of readers. He is known as a humorist. He is now a visiting lecturer at the University of Southern California and was formerly Director of the Rural Organization Service of the United States Department of Agriculture and Advisor in Agricultural Economics to the Department. He is fellow of the Royal Economic Society and of the American Academy of Arts and Sciences. He is an ex-President of the American Economic Association.

Dr. Patterson is Professor of Economics in the University of Pennsylvania. He was formerly visiting Professor at the Institut Universitaire des Hautes Etudes Internationales, Geneva, Switzerland and lecturer at the Academy of International Law, The Hague, Holland. He is also President of the American Academy of Political and Social Science.

Dr. Jones is a fellow of the Royal Economic Society and was formerly Vice President of the American

Caught in a Wave of Prosperity—With Bonus Checks

"Happy days are here again!" Bonus checks—part of the $2,300,000 distributed among 59,000 employees—were the cause of this jubilation in one of the shops of the Chrysler Corporation, Detroit. A business boom in 1935 enabled the company to give each employee a minimum bonus of $30 with $2 extra added for each year of service up to 10 years. Many workers received as high as $50.

Economics Association. He is also an ex-President of the Pacific Coast Economic Association. Among his books are "The Anthracite Coal Combination in the United States," "The Trust Problem in the United States," "Principles of Railway Transportation," "Principles of Public Utilities," and he collaborated in the publication of "Railroads—Cases and Selections."

One Heads College
Dr. Thomas is President of the Clark College of Technology at Potsdam, N. Y. He is a brilliant writer with an easy flowing style. In 1928 and 1929 he was Director of the Alabama State Industrial Board.

Dr. Dyer is now Professor of Economics at Vanderbilt University, Nashville, Tennessee. He is the author of several books among which are "Democracy in the South before the Civil War" and "History of Tennessee." He was at one time a lecturer under the auspices of the National Council of New York City.

Dr. Packler is a contributor to many business papers and periodicals and also joint author of a two-volume work "Economic Principles and Problems." He is at present an Assistant Professor of Economics at New York University and was formerly an instructor in the American Institute of Banking in Cincinnati. He is a frequent speaker on monetary problems.

TO GET BACK PAY.
Chicago.—A writ of mandamus directing the state auditors and state treasurer to pay City Judge R. W. Griffith of Granite City Ill. $7,833.33 in back pay was issued by Circuit Judge Harry M. Fishner. COOPERATIVES SURGING AHEAD VERY RAPIDLY

Farmers Saving Over $1-900,000 a Year in These Bodies

Co-operative enterprises sponsored by the Illinois Agricultural Association are surging ahead by leaps and bounds was the report received by the Lee County Farm Bureau today. During 1935 Illinois farmers spent approximately $11,632,117 in their own co-operatives with a saving of approximately $1,939,934 over similar purchases had they been made through organizations not set up on a co-operative basis. These figures do not include those co-operatives which have to do primarily with the marketing of Illinois farm products.

The farm supplies and petroleum products division did a business with 85,000 patrons, at a retail value of $8,400,000. The life, auto, and fire insurance companies received premiums totaling in all $2,872,154. Country Life Insurance Company received $1,596,735 from 52,967 policyholders on $80,000,000 of life insurance in force. It is conservatively estimated that savings to policyholders amounted to around $400,000. Premiums received by Illinois Agricultural Mutual from 45,056 policyholders amounted to $742,112.79 with an estimated savings of $500,000. To Farmers Mutual Reinsurance Company from 32,000 policyholders came premiums totaling $533,307 on $122,258,336 of fire, wind and hail insurance in force. The savings to policyholders, it was estimated, was set conservatively at $200,000.

$151,000 For Serum.

The Farm Bureau Serum Association received from approximately 25,000 livestock farmers $151,000 for 27,263.795 c. c. of anti-hog cholera serum. A patronage dividend amounting to $35,000 was paid to patrons of the association which represents the savings made buying co-operatively.

Each of the five co-operatives mentioned above made substantial gains over the preceding year. The plans for 1936 indicate the momentum gained the last few years will be maintained and increased to further aid Illinois farmers to get their money's worth whether they buy or sell co-operatively.

Fur Farming Proven Lucrative Business

Fur animals are an important and profitable farm crop, not only in supplementing the natural supply, but also in using land of little value for field crops.

No branch of animal production, says the Biological Survey, has developed more rapidly during the depression nor has resulted in greater profits than silver-fox farming, and this at a time when some farm commodities scarcely had a market. Investment in fur farming is now estimated at $50,000,000. Fox farmers in 1934-35 harvested 170,000 pelts, having a total value of approximately $7,000,000.

Fur farming, says the Bureau, is now established in 35 states and is not in competition with any other type of farming. The industry is organized, with 3 national, 15 regional, and 16 state associations.

Sapphires are often passed off as diamonds. When the color is removed from the sapphires, even experts find it difficult to distinguish them from diamonds.

POLITICS

As Seen in Washington by AP Bureau Chief

By BYRON PRICE

(Chief of Bureau, The Associated Press, Washington, D. C.)

The circuitous manner in which it is proposed to finance the new farm program raises a point about which there already are signs of growing political controversy.

Under the old AAA legislation, the farmer benefits and the taxes to pay them were written into a single statute and so linked together as to show clearly that the purpose was to tax processors and give the money to farmers. Invalidating that law, the supreme court observed that "the word (taxation) has never been thought to connote the expropriation of money from one group for the benefit of another."

With that decision obviously in mind, congressional leaders now propose to scatter the new program through no less than three different statutes—one providing for the benefits, one authorizing an appropriation to pay them, and a third proposing certain taxes without specifying for what these taxes are to be used.

Some of the Republicans call this an effort "to get around the constitution," and the administration men reply that it is an effort "to keep the legislation clearly within the constitution."

Touche Social Security

Nor does the dispute apply to farm legislation alone. A railway pension suit already pending in the courts touches directly on this subject of divorcing tax and benefit legislation, and several quarters have pointed out that such a question may be involved also in the largest "new deal" money measure of them all—the social security act.

The original railway pension act provided both for railway pensions and for taxes to finance them. After the supreme court threw out that legislation, congress passed two separate bills, one providing for the benefits, the other for the taxes.

Defending the constitutionality of this new arrangement recently in District of Columbia court, the commissioner of internal revenue, Mr. Helvering, declared the taxes provided for were just like any other taxes, not set aside for any special group, but going directly into the general fund of the treasury. The tax, he said, "bears no relation to the amounts authorized to be appropriated and disbursed under the retirement act."

This is a statement which takes on special interest when it is realized that although the giant social security law covers both benefits and taxes in a single act, it is not stated anywhere in the act that taxes are to be segregated to pay these particular benefits.

What Might Happen

The old-age benefit section of the security act alone contemplates that eventually a reserve of $47,000,000,000—bigger by half than the present national debt—will be built up in the treasury from unsegregated taxes paid by employer and employee.

If the government takes the position that this fund "bears no relation" to benefits due under the security act, that it is just like any other money and can be used to pay any government obligation, how safe are the old-age reserves?

Emanuel Levi, president of the Southern Newspaper Publishers' association, recently pictured what might happen when, in the future, a bill is proposed to meet the current expense of the old-age security plan.

"You know from experience," said Levi, "what the temper, the attitude and the make-up of an average congress is. The bill is up for discussion and a congressman calls attention to the fact that there is already in this fund several billions of dollars and that for several years the income has far exceeded the outgo. He calls attention to the many other good purposes to which this idle fund could be placed, reciting a few of his own pets as well as those of many others. You guess the outcome."

Certainly the political involvements of this manner of legislation, as well as its economic and constitutional aspects, hint at highly interesting possibilities.

Boiling tea leaves in a fish pan will remove that fishy odor.

LEE COUNTY IS IN DIPHTHERIA CHECK-UP LIST

One of 22 Counties in Immunization Health
Study

Lee county is placed twelfth on a list of twenty-two counties in which the study of the percentage of diphtheria inoculations in proportion to the number of births the past two years was made.

Immunization campaigns have been carried out at one time or another in every county of the state. Some counties, like Scott, have had a high proportion of the child population inoculated against the disease. Too often, however, enthusiasm and interest in the problem declines rapidly after a general campaign, particularly if the campaign has been outstandingly successful and diphtheria disappears.

Non-Immune Generation
When another generation arises, a non-immunized susceptible population has grown to the danger age, it has been found. This situation has developed in some counties.

Weak spots of this character in the diphtheria control progress of the state are revealed by a study of the state department of public health records. Supplies of diphtheria toxoid were distributed by the department of every county in Illinois except Putnam. The amount of toxoid that went to each of the twenty-two counties listed was not sufficient, however, to inoculate as many as one-half of the babies born during 1934 in these counties. The 1934 babies were the ones most in need of protective treatments during 1935.

Chances Not Great
While toxoid may be purchased on the open market, the chances are not great that this was done to any considerable extent in the counties in which little was obtained from the state department of public health in 1935. The department distributed free toxoid that measures up to the high standards of reliability. This would indicate a large percentage of young children in these counties have not been protected against diphtheria.

In the table are data which show the number of births reported in 1934, the number of immunizing doses of toxoid distributed by the state department of public health in 1935 and the percentage of children born in 1934 who could have been inoculated with the toxoid:

BLIZZARDS AND COLD WAVES ARE KILLING GAME

Lee County Farmers are Urged to Aid in Saving Species

Blizzards and sub-zero waves have combined to pile snow so deep in Lee county and surrounding counties that wild game is in danger of extermination.

Deputy Game Warden J. P. Frank of Whiteside county is not only urging farmers and others to feed quail and other wild fowl but he is also asking for donations, particularly from people within the cities and towns, for money with which to purchase feed. The state does not furnish any feed and Frank has already spent around $12 of his own money purchasing feed for distribution and is now asking assistance. The heavy snows have covered all available feeding grounds for quail and wild fowl and many of them have already frozen to death. Unless those surviving are fed it will mean extinction. Thomas McCue was the first to make a donation in Whiteside county, giving Frank between six and seven bushels of corn and rye with which to feed quail and wild fowl.

FIRST PHASES OF EXTENSION PROGRAM OPEN

Large Force Working On Homemaking, Agriculture Plan

URBANA, Ill., Feb. 18.—A force of 2,000 farmers and homemakers is now at work throughout Illinois on the first phases of a new undertaking to build an extension program for agriculture and homemaking in each of the 102 counties of the state, it is announced by Dean H. W. Mumford, of the College of Agriculture, University of Illinois and director of the agricultural extension service.

Making up the corps of 2,000 is a committee appointed for each county of the state by Director Mumford and working in co-operation with the local county farm and home advisers. Through the work of these committees there will be set up in every county a co-ordinated farm and home educational program which will have for its purpose the advancement of the economic and social welfare of Illinois farmers, farm homemakers and their families.

Continues Program
The new undertaking is a continuation of program co-ordination which has been in progress in Illinois for a number of years but which was interrupted by various emergency activities that have come up since the spring of 1933. Both the national planning and the national discussion group projects being launched by the U. S. Department of Agriculture are incorporated as a part of the county project.

In keeping with this, the functions of the county committees will be to encourage more interest and participation by farm people in group discussions of their problems, to analyze available facts regarding farm and home conditions in their own counties, to outline an educational program based on these facts and to make the necessary arrangements for carrying out such a program. Within the next few weeks representatives from the extension service of the agricultural college, serving as supervisors for the different farming-type areas of the state, will visit their respective counties to confer with the committees and assist them in getting their work started.

In Style for His First Parliament

Though Canada's 18th Parliament opened this year in somber simplicity, due to King George's death, a bit of traditional pomp was introduced when the governor-general, Lord Tweedsmuir, appeared, as shown above, in plumed hat and cape with sword and decorations, to launch the session. This was his first Dominion Parliament for one-time Author John Buchan.

NEW FARM PLAN HOLDS PUBLIC OPINION WELL

Decatur Meet Proved Encouraging For Many Farmers

Farmers who attended the annual meeting at Decatur came away encouraged that an effective program for maintaining parity prices for farm prices is in the making, says the IAA in a statement received by the Lee County Farm Bureau today.

There is now an evident spirit of unity and agreement among all partisan groups that a farm program must be worked out. Organized farmers see in this feeling an eventual realization of their dreams for a permanent plan that assures equal protection to agriculture against crop surpluses and ruinous crop levels of 1932.

The death of the AAA by a 6 to 3 vote has crystallized public opinion in support of a permanent policy for maintaining farm and national prosperity and has brought home the necessity of such a plan if recovery is to be complete. This opinion is based on the fact that the AAA was passed by an overwhelming non-partisan vote in both houses of congress.

Illinois farmers therefore believe that the new soil conservation plan being formulated at Washington will have similar support from the members of both major parties.

A THOUGHT FOR TODAY

But if ye do not forgive, neither will your Father which is in heaven, forgive your trespasses.—St. Mark 11:26.

A wise man will make haste to forgive, because he knows the full value of time and will not suffer it to pass away in unnecessary pain.—Rambler.

A TOE TOUCH

OIL-HUSHED to a sigh of silence under Buick's style-tapered bonnet, a great-powered valve-in-head engine waits to unleash a torrent of action at your command.

There's thrill in it—and triumph over time and distance. But most important—there's eyewink obedience.

Teamed up with this ablest of driving forces is the newest and most highly perfected system of hydraulic brakes.

The quickest of stops is velvet smooth under their self-energizing action. On the wettest of streets there will be no slewing, no swerves, for they are automatically self-equalizing.

Their action has the smoothness of a closing hand, increasing its grasp steadily to the maximum. Their steel-tensioned grip would halt a heavy truck, but it takes only a touch of a daintily-shod toe to put them into action.

We call them "tiptoe hydraulics," and how apt the name is you'll never know until you drive a Buick and sample for yourself their softness and their velvet command.

The first few times you sit behind a Buick wheel, you may find yourself traveling faster than you think. No car is more buoyantly smooth in its power-flow, more deceptively effortless in its swift flight.

But no car is more surely under control at all times—quicker, smoother, easier in its stopping. If you must drive with an eye on the passing minutes, do so in a Buick which matches engine eagerness with tiptoe braking sureness, offsets highspot go-ability with dependable stop-ability.

$765 to $1215 are the list prices of the new Buicks at Flint, Mich., subject to change without notice. Standard and special accessories groups on all models at extra cost. All Buick prices include safety glass throughout as standard equipment.

Inventor's Friends Finance His Suits Against Tractor Co.

Belleville, Ill., Feb. 19.—(AP)—Charles Paridy, Belleville inventor said today Highland, Ill., friends have promised $1,000 needed to perfect an appeal in his suit to establish rights as caterpillar tractor inventor.

Paridy, who says he is penniless, claims he invented the tractor principle in 1892, but did not patent his device until 1912. He seeks an accounting from the Caterpillar Tractor Co. of Peoria, successor to the Holt Tractor Co., which Paridy claims originally manufactured his invention.

He said he has spent $75,000 in his legal battle which began in 1919, and most of this money has been put up by friends. The federal court in Springfield yesterday refused to vacate an order granting him until April 30 to perfect his appeal.

Chicago.—Suit for annulment of her marriage to Dwight Farrar, of Monmouth, Ill., was filed by Mrs. Martha Louise Farrar, 18, Chicago. Her bill set forth she was only 16 when they were married August 30, 1933, at Galesburg, Ill., and that the marriage was opposed by her father, Linn Hoon, Monmouth. Both bride and groom were then high school students, according to the bill, and she wished to continue her schooling.

NEW VACCINE EFFECTIVE ON HOG CHOLERA

Crystal-Violet Discov- ered by Scien- tist

Of particular interest to Lee county farmers who are studying "Hog Production" at their weekly Farmers' Evening School sessions at Dixon high school is the discovery, by Dr. M. Dorset, an agricultural scientist of prominence more than thirty years ago, of anti-hog cholera serum, which has proved so valuable in treating this disease.

The scientist was Dr. M. Dorset. He died last July, but he left as a monument to his persistent genius a new vaccine—crystal-violet—which the bureau of animal industry has just announced, and which, it believes, may be the most satisfactory product yet developed to fight hog cholera. A patent on crystal-violet vaccine—dedicated to the public welfare—has been applied for.

Tested Further.

Although crystal-violet vaccine must be tested further, indications are it will be not only as effective, but cheaper and safer than the combination serum - and - virus treatment now used.

Dr. Dorset studied the diseases of many farm animals and developed many products for their control. But he was never fully content with his cholera serum. Year after year he and his staff worked for improvements in cholera prevention.

Sought Chemicals.

In recent years, they sought, particularly, chemicals to mix with the deadly virus which would destroy the infective element and at the same time preserve the protective element that creates immunity to hog cholera. They experimented with various substances — phenol, glycerin, formalin, and other chemicals.

One of the last was crystal-violet. A water-soluble dye, Dr. Dorset did not live to test, to his full satisfaction, vaccine made with this product. But his co-workers now announce that, in their experiments with 200 pigs, crystal-violet vaccine has just given about 99 per cent protection against hog cholera.

Illinois House Opposes Eastern Standard Time

Springfield, Ill., Feb. 19.—(AP) The Illinois House of Representatives Tuesday adopted a resolution opposing the placing of Chicago under Eastern Standard Time.

The resolution was sponsored by Reps. Thomas A. Bolger of McHenry and Thomas P. Sinnett of Rock Island, Democrats, and David Hunter of Rockford and Warren L. Wood of Joliet, Republicans.

It placed the House on record also as opposing the alteration of railroad time tables to provide for Eastern time in Chicago.

Since experts regard that means of transport as best suited to streets crowded with traffic, a "flying squad" of London's police force is equipped with bicycles.

SEED WORRIES DOMINANT IN CORN OUTLOOK

Severe Winter May Cause Shortage in Corn Acreage

Urbana, Feb. 18.—Threats of a serious seed corn situation, brought on by record freezes, dominate the outlook situation for corn, Illinois' major crop, as farmers look forward to the new planting season, according to officials of the College of Agriculture, University of Illinois.

Earlier in the season, before the record winter had taken its toll in seed, a slightly increased acreage of corn was in prospect for the country, given normal weather conditions in the spring. How much the seed corn situation in Illinois and other states will alter this prospect is not yet known.

Likewise the full extent of the chinch bug threat can not be measured until a more accurate check-up can be made of what the record winter has done to these pests.

Some New Outlets.

One of the relatively new outlets for corn as Illinois farmers plan their 1936 acreages is the distilled spirits industry, which used more than 19 million bushels, or about four-fifths of 1 per cent of the crop in 1934-35 and promises some additional, although not large, increase in 1935-36.

This year's corn crop will follow a domestic harvest of 2,211 million bushels in 1935, which was about 86 per cent of the 1928-32 average. The increase of 834 millions over 1934 production was partly the result of an increase in acreage but more so of better acre yields.

Last year Illinois increased its corn acreage over that in 1934 by about one-half per cent, but the 1935 acreage was still 17 per cent less than the 1928-32 average. The 1935 production of corn in Illinois was 137 million bushels more than the low harvest of 1934, but more than 45 million bushels less than the 1928-32 five-year average.

Weighing heavily in advance plans for this year's corn crop is the fact that feed supplies and the number of farm animals are now in the best balance in several years. With no more livestock than there are now and with normal yields from an acreage of corn as large as last year's, there might easily be a surplus of corn and the danger of low prices, it was said.

Plans for this year's corn crop are affected somewhat by the fact that although the quality of the 1935 harvest was generally good, the crop was poor in some sections of the country. Soft corn must necessarily be utilized for feed or otherwise consumed before warm spring weather. Furthermore it will have to be fed heavier than sound corn to produce the same result.

GUINEAS PROVE WATCHDOGS FOR STUPID TURKEYS

Always alert and watchful, guinea fowls have a special value as danger alarms and safety leaders for other poultry, particularly the rattle-headed turkeys, H. L. Shrader of the United States Department of Agriculture suggests that turkey growers will do well to include a few guinea fowls with each incubator lot of turkey eggs. They have the same period of incubation.

"The guinea chick," he says, "is brighter, more alert. It teaches the turkey poults how to find the feed hopper and the warm spots under the brooder. As the two grow older and range together, the young guinea fowls sound the first alarm when strange animals or predator hawks appear. To see a few guineas in a large flock of turkeys reminds one of a motorcycle policeman weaving in and out in crowded traffic."

Guinea fowl also give variety for the table, and many consider the gamey meat a great delicacy.

CALTROP PEST SPOILS GAME FOWL FEEDING

An undesirable water plant—the caltrop—has smothered many acres of valuable waterfowl food plants, and even hinders navigation, in the Potomac river, near Washington.

Its sudden appearance and rapid spread is a lesson in the conservation of waterfowl food plants, says the Bureau of Biological Survey. When any aquatic plant of no value as waterfowl food appears, it should be checked at once.

Recently a small stand of giant cutgrass, or white marsh grass, was discovered in the Potomac near Washington. The next day the bureau began its eradication. Giant cutgrass is a possible pest. It affords a minimum of food and fair-to-poor cover for waterfowl. Where it makes a stand, it crowds out wild rice and other valuable waterfowl food plants.

The Hudson river once flowed southwest, crossing the Palisades and Watchung mountains of New Jersey to reach Raritan Bay, rather than passing Manhattan island on its way to New York harbor, according to Dr. Johnson, of Columbia University.

FRANK PRIEBE'S WEEKLY LETTER to POULTRY RAISERS

This week I had the privilege of conferring with Secretary of State Hull. Our discussion centered on the problem of importing eggs to the United States.

Naturally I am interested in protecting the producers of eggs in this country against foreign competition.

I found the subject of tariffs and international trade a most interesting one. In discussing the tariff on eggs the influence of the Japanese situation in Japan, the Japanese acquisition of northern China, and the outcome of the Ethiopian war were mentioned. They all seemed rather far away to affect the American farmer who is raising a few chickens. But it made me realize that we usually are pretty near-sighted when we consider the poultry business and that a good many things affect it which most of us never know about.

On leaving the Secretary's office I was introduced to a gentleman from Mexico whose position in the Mexican government would correspond to Secretary Wallace's. We said we would like to sell Mexico some eggs, but he stopped us, waving his hands and saying, "Oh, no—we are no buyers,—we produce lots of eggs and we are going to ship you—very cheap, very cheap."

Famine Follows Surplus of Eggs

This question of a surplus of eggs and international trade has been knocked into a cocked hat in the last few weeks by something none of us can control.

A month or six weeks ago there was a huge surplus of eggs, there was hope of an early hatch, and there was the threat that large numbers of fresh eggs would be coming on the market before those carried over from last season had been consumed.

Today, as a result of the weather, conditions are just the opposite.

There is practically an egg famine; hatcheries can't get eggs to fill their incubators; and in many producing sections there aren't enough eggs to supply the local demand.

Which all goes to prove that, regardless of how sound a man-made play may seem, forces over which we have no control can change conditions and render the best plan either unnecessary or useless.

Sincerely yours,

Frank Pribe

GETS YEAR TO LIFE.

Geneva, Ill.—William Brumbe-low, 34, the last to be recaptured of five men who escaped from the Kane county jail here last Sept. 14, was sentenced to one year to life at the Joliet penitentiary by Judge Frank W. Shepherd. Brumbe-low was charged with burglary and larceny.

There are approximately 2000 daily newspapers in the United States.

D. H. S. Chapter

By WARREN RIZNER
Robert F. A. Project, the Story of Potatoes

My project included one acre of potatoes, one half of which was Irish Cobbler, and the other half Early Ohio.

The ground was plowed and harrowed until all the clods were broken, then I planted the potatoes. I purchased several pounds of Bordeaux mixture, and arsenic of lead from the high school laboratory.

When the plant were about six inches high, I sprayed them for the first time and continued this practice every ten days.

The cost of my project was not exceedingly large, only $23 for the entire year. About $5.00 was for the rent of the land, $1.50 for plowing and harrowing, $6.50 for certified seed, $2.00 for use of sprayer and spray material and the horse and man labor came to $8.00 all of which amounts to $23.00.

When harvesting time came, I hired a man with a team to dig my potatoes and the yield of cobbler was larger than Early Ohio.

My project of potatoes yielded 47 bushels, of which 28 bushels were Irish Cobbler and the remaining 19 bushel were Early Ohio. I sold 15 bushel for $26.25 and the remaining 32 bushel, I value at $45.00 which brought the total income to $71.25 and after my expenses were taken out, my total profit was $48.25.

This spring, I plan to grow another acre of potatoes and improve my yield of last year by growing all Cobbler and spraying more regularly to completely control leaf hoppers.

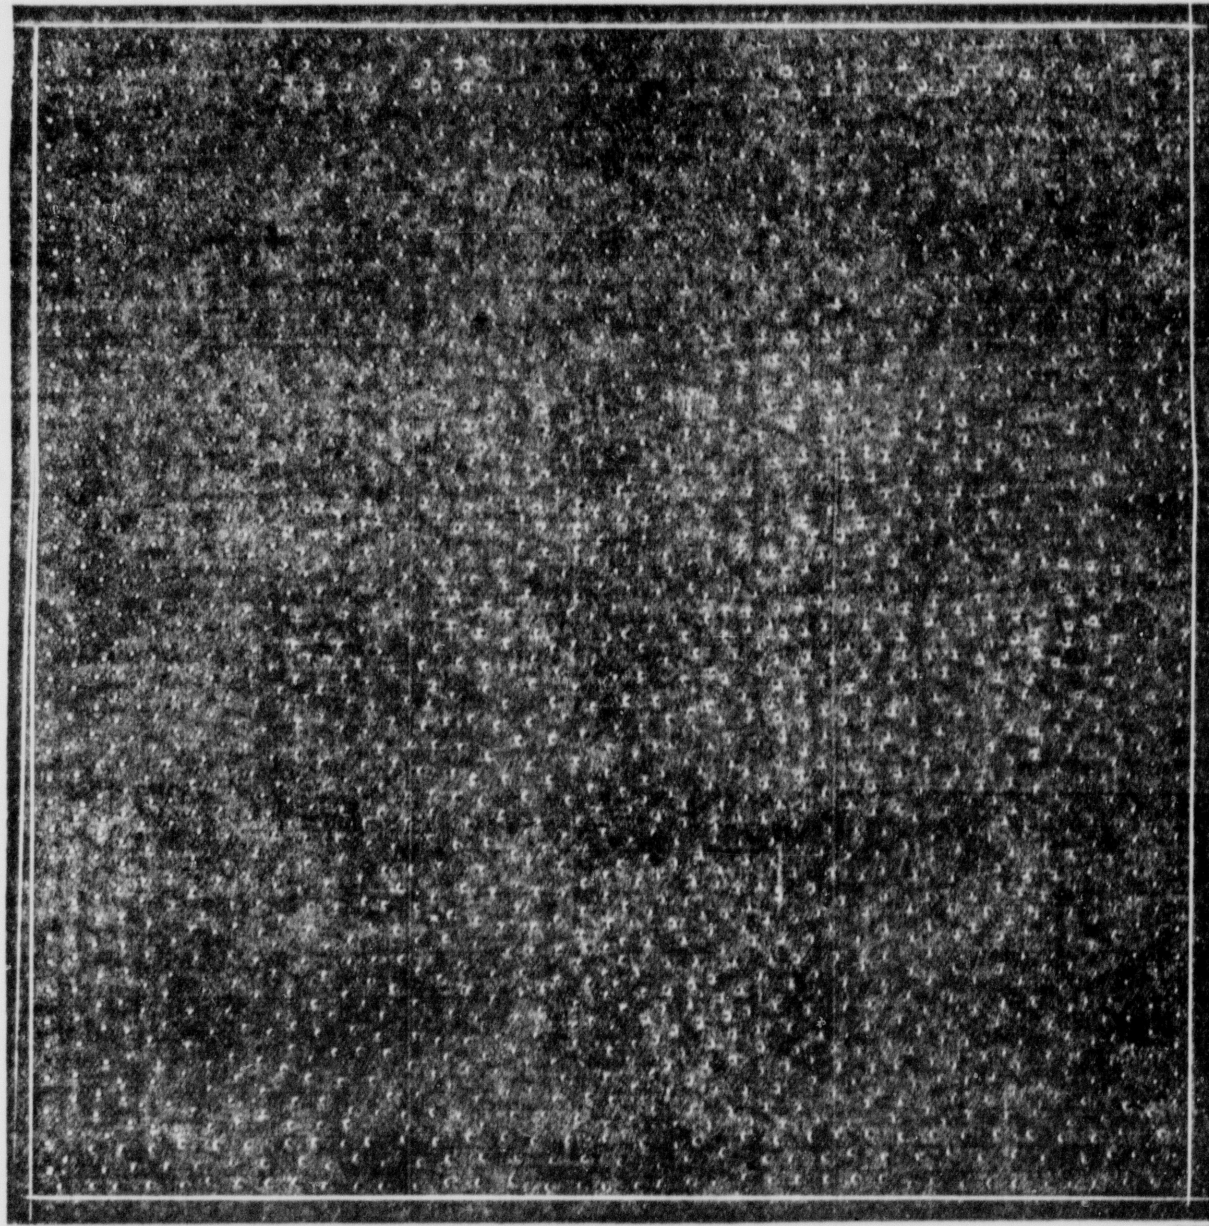

There are 20,320,884 females and only 18,444,565 males in France.

GRAIN RAISER COOPERATIVES ARE PLANNED

Extend Benefits of Grain Market System

Definite steps to bring the advantages of the established co-operative grain marketing system to grain producers in every community of Illinois, vigorous endorsement of the Commodity Exchange bill and action to restrict if not completely bar imports of Argentine corn in 1936 were unanimously approved at the annual meeting of the Illinois Grain Corporation Feb. 12 in Peoria. Approximately 200 grain growers, farmers' elevator directors, and managers attended the meeting despite blocked roads and hazardous travel throughout northern and western Illinois.

In his annual address, President G. C. Johnstone of Bloomington said: "We now have 200 co-operative farmers' elevators affiliated with the Illinois Grain Corporation throughout the state, not quite 50 per cent of the farmers' elevators in Illinois. In a great many communities there are growers who want to but do not have the opportunity of marketing their grain through Illinois Grain and Farmers National Grain Corporations. There are two reasons for this: first, in some localities there are no farmers' elevators; and, secondly, farmers' elevators in some localities have not yet affiliated with the established co-operative marketing system."

Solved First Situation
"We have solved the first situation in some localities by setting up new co-operatives. A number of privately-operated elevators have been converted into co-operatives, which, having no prior connections with the trade are marketing most of their grain co-operatively. The second situation is more of a problem. The Illinois Grain Corporation has been built around the farmers' elevator, but if a large number of these elevators do not see fit to give the farmers of their communities an opportunity to take advantage of the national co-operative marketing system which is attempting to correct trade practices detrimental to farmers' interests, and to maintain fair prices for grain, then another outlet should be provided. A farmer's elevator which forgets its obligations to the community is in the same class as an old line concern which has only the profit motive. Some communities are requesting that outlets be made available to them."

Aroused over reports of a stupendous crop of 700,000,000 bu. of corn in the Argentine which will start moving to market in April, Illinois farmers went on record demanding that officers move at once to bring this situation to the attention of proper authorities in Washington so as to restrict if not bar imports of such corn. It is estimated that the new Argentine crop will be approximately 200 million bushels larger than any previous crop grown, a large part of which is available for export.

Other resolutions endorsed the new farm program to replace AAA urged immediate passage of the pending commodity exchange bill to protect the rights of co-operatives operating on grain exchanges, commended Secretary Wallace and Administrator Chester C. Davis for their "splendid leadership" in the fight for a national policy for agriculture, and condemned the adoption of eastern standard time for Chicago.

The corporation handled more than 10,300,000 bu. of grain last year and in January this year handled the largest volume of grain of any January in its six years' history. Manager Harrison Farhinkopf reported.

Speakers were C. E. Huff, president, Farmers Nat'l Grain Corporation, Chicago; J. O. McClinch, sales manager of the Chicago office of Farmers National; G. E. Metzger, field secretary, Illinois Grain Corporation; and D. W. Hardy, president, St. Louis Bank for Co-operatives.

Only one change was made in the board of directors. Arthur Burwash of Champaign was re-elected in place of Warren Watson of Ludlow. E. E. Stevenson, Streator, was elected vice-president to succeed A. R. Wright, Varna, who will continue as a member of the board.

Funeral of Jasper Risley Wednesday

(Telegraph Special Service)
Amboy, Feb. 19.—The funeral of Jasper N. Risley, who passed away Saturday after an illness of but three days' duration, although his health had been failing for three years, was held at the Vaughan undertaking parlors here at 2 o'clock this afternoon. Rev. Earl Edwards of the Methodist church officiating. The body was placed in the receiving vault at Prairie Repose until weather and road conditions permit burial in the West Brooklyn cemetery.

Mr. Risley was born March 18, 1847 and was the last survivor of a family of seven. He is mourned by his widow, Annie, and an adopted son, Lester.

When You Climb Drifts With Ladder, That's SNOW

When drifts pile to such height that it's necessary to use a ladder to climb 'em to repair telephone lines, that's snow that is snow. So Illinois refuses to concede honors to any other state, in the record blizzards that have whipped the entire width of the country. This scene gives a vivid idea of the handicaps under which linemen worked on the state highway south of Freeport, Ill., where drifts piled from 10 to 20 feet high.

DAILY HEALTH

ASBESTOSIS

Asbestosis is a disease resulting from inhalation of asbestos dust. Asbestos is a silicate of magnesium.

Asbestosis is a danger confronting workers of all industries in which asbestos is handled, and the danger is greater when the asbestos must be handled in a dry state. The numerous industries in which asbestos is employed include those which produce fireproof textiles, such as curtains, brake lining, steam packings and conveyor belts. Asbestos also enters largely into the manufacturing of fireproof building materials, such as shingles, wall board and insulation and in the production, too, of numerous electrical products.

The inhalation of asbestos dust particles excites the formation of scar tissue in the lungs. This pathologic development usually takes place in the end portions of the respiratory channels, that is, in the smallest bronchioles. In time the scar tissue so developed contracts and blocks off the air cells to which the bronchi lead. The further result is that the affected portion of the lung tissue tends to collapse and become fibrotic.

When affecting an appreciable portion of the lung, asbestosis seriously interferes with respiration and thus handicaps the sufferer.

The development of tuberculosis does not follow in the wake of asbestosis quite as frequently as it does of silicosis. However, the asbestosis victim may be more seriously handicapped than is usually the sufferer of silicosis, because of his shortness of breath and his inability to sustain hard labor, etc. Also, the asbestosis sufferer may develop these clinical symptoms following a shorter exposure to asbestos dust than the silicosis victim to silica.

There is no known effective treatment for asbestosis. Once the fibrotic bands are formed in the lungs, they cannot be resolved by any known measure, nor can we deliberately eliminate the inhaled asbestos particles. As in the silicosis hazard, so, too, in asbestosis, salvation lies in prevention.

The United States has more than 60 species of the mosquito.

Illinois House Changes Ruling For Adjournment

Springfield, Ill., Feb. 19.—(AP)—

The house Tuesday unanimously adopted a joint resolution providing that when the legislature adjourns the first week of March, all of its three special sessions running concurrently will adjourn sine die.

The resolution goes to the Senate. The resolution, which stands as a recommendation and has no legal effect, goes next to the senate which re-convenes tonight.

It would be sent to the Illinois commerce commission and presented also at the interstate commerce commission hearing February 24 in Chicago.

The resolution opposed the contemplated change to eastern standard time in Chicago and urges the Interstate Commerce Commission to deny any petition or application which would seek such change in railroad time schedules.

It said in part: "A considerable number of people engaged in agricultural and industrial pursuits throughout the state will be adversely affected by such change in railroad time schedules, particularly during the winter months.

"It is believed that a majority of our citizens is opposed to such a change."

While aimed specifically at railroad time changes, the resolution was interpreted by sponsors as a blow at the proposal to have all Chicago observe Eastern standard time.

Hammer Slayer's Accessory Held

Danville, Ill., Feb. 19.—(AP)—

Tony McGoley, held as an accessory in a hammer attack on Everett A. Bates, assistant high school principal, was freed on bond of $3,000 today after spending the week-end in jail.

Donald Cunningham, 16, high school student who Police Chief Richard Johnson said confessed beating Bates with a hammer, was held under $10,000 bond. McGoley allegedly advised Cunningham "to get out of town" and gave him clothing.

Bates, physicians said, continued to improve and was believed out of danger. Specialists removed bone splinters from his brain Saturday.

State's Attorney Oliver Mann said Cunningham, after waiving preliminary examination, would be held for the May grand jury.

CONSERVATION IS ADOPTED BY 4-H CLUB BOYS

One Thousand Were Enlisted in 1935 In Program

There has developed within the past three years a movement within 4-H Club circles known as the conservation activity. The farm boy of today has listened for years to stories told by his father or perhaps grandfather of the abundance of game and fish. He has heard of the great sport these ancestors had in fishing or hunting and has longed for a chance for the same kind of sport.

Following the noticeable trend of interest in wild game, wood lore, and bird study on the part of farm boys and girls, the 4-H leaders began experimenting with a few activities such as tree identification, bird house building, bird study, and landscaping to see if they would appeal to farm boys and girls. The response was instantaneous. Today quite extensive programs of conservation activities have been started in one third of the states.

4-H Club Interested

Conservation activities among 4-H Clubs were started in Illinois in April, 1935 and approximately one thousand boys were enlisted in one or more activities. The work outlined suggested activities covering conservation of soil, trees, flowers, shrubs, fish, birds, and animals. Local 4-H Clubs were encouraged to take up an activity such as a survey of the game birds and animals present, a study of game laws, and studies of the birds and animals present, a study of game laws, and studies of the birds and animals considered harmful but which are really helpful. Members were urged to take up such activities as providing brush piles in woods or fence corners for cover for quail, planting gullies to prevent washing and provide shelter for game, and planting feed in fence corners for winter consumption of quail and pheasant.

The sportsmen of the state can be of help in this movement. The sportsmen of Livingston County provided in 1935 packages of seed mixtures of sorghum, feterita, German millet, and sudan grass to the 4-H Club members who would plant and save the feed in a protected fence corner. The sportsmen also furnished speakers for local 4-H programs.

Another service rendered by sportsmen is cooperation with these boys in ridding the community of predatory animals such as the fox, the crow, and the common house cat, and by better observance of game laws and the rights of people on the lands.

In September, 1935 a state 4-H camp for outstanding members in conservation work was held on Lake Bloomington. This was attended by thirty-three boys and leaders.

In regard to an extended campaign now organized for the preservation of wild life in Illinois, and the retention of fertility of the state's soil and scenery, the "Illinois Conservation" mid-winter issue for 1935-36 says:

"Illinois Conservation" has been initiated wholly for the purpose of expanding and strengthening the coordination among sportsmen in Illinois, and of bringing the fraternity into closer touch with the Department of Conservation.

We have started modestly. A more formal and elaborate publication would, in itself, be expensive, and its preparation would require additional employees. The staff which we now have, with the indispensable aid of contributors, will make this publication possible.

The exchange of notes from the various county organization units is essential; the Question and Answer Department should prove interesting and informative. These two sections are essentially the sportsmen's own and I am relying upon them for the cooperation and interest required to insure success for those divisions.

May we not have your sympathetic interest and assistance in this, the latest venture of your Department of Conservation?

Seven Belgian Horses Sold By Danville Farm

Danville, Ill., Feb. 19.—(AP)—Sale of seven Belgian horses from the championship stables of H. C. Horneman to E. A. Cudahy, Chicago packer, was announced today.

Cudahy, Horneman said, will use the animals as the nucleus of a Belgian breeding farm near Aurora, Ill. Sale prices were not made public. Included in the lot was Lady Successor, winner of many blue ribbons and cups and awarded the King Albert cup in the Belgian division at the 1935 International Livestock Exposition. Another was Rowdy D, grand champion Belgian stallion at the 1934 and 1935 American Royal and International shows.
